Norbert Prefontaine, executive director of the Canadian Legislative Council will be the speaker at the Canadian Chorus on Friday, March 6th. His topic will be "A Revolution in French Canada".

The magistrate had asked the chief's opinion after reading the report which stated the hospital had found Hall was not mentally deficient or mentally ill and was not certified. (The accused had been remanded over from an earlier court for a mental examination, the results of which were read to the court following the trial today).

"I have known this boy since he was a child", said the police chief, "and I disagree with the report".

He taught English and History, and tutored in English, French and Mathematics from 1948 to 1950 in Montreal. Subsequently, he worked as chief of the Information Services of Station CKSB in St. Boniface and as a reporter for the CBC French network.

$62,169 in cash, pledges acknowledged by foundation

The Academy Theatre Foundation announced today that $62,169.00 has been raised to date in cash and pledges. This announcement brings The Foundation to within $4,000.00 of its fund-raising goal.

The following is a list of contributions to date:

Adams, N. (Miss); Ainsworth, R. E.; Aitken, Geo. A.; Allan R. J.; Allely, Mrs. and the late W.; Anderson, D.C.; Anderson, J.E. (Mrs.); Anderson, W.B.

The fire was first observed coming from the roof of the barn about 11 p.m. by a neighbor, James Lamb, who raised the alarm. The Brechin Fire Dept. responded but due to the headway the fire had gained, was forced to concentrate on containing it. A driving shed nearby containing about $10,000 worth of implements was saved.

Academy book records doner's contributions

Names of Founding, Sustaining and Permanent members of the Academy Theatre Foundation will be recorded in a book to be placed in a suitable location in the theatre.

The foundation committee authorized the purchase of the book at its general committee meeting this week.

CONDEMNED

National N-D-P leader T. C. Douglas says Canada stands condemned for selling out the mighty Columbia River treaty to a "power hungry" United States. The socialist chairman told the Commons last night that his party will do everything in its power to prevent parliament from ratifying what he called "This betrayal of the Canadian People." Douglas said "The Sharp Yankee traders took our naive and inexperienced Canadian negotiators into their camp and played them for suckers." The N-D-P leader went on to say the U.S. will receive Canadian gold benefits for 70-million dollars, once estimated by U.S. Interior Secretary Stewart Udall at a cost of 500-million dollars. Douglas also charged the government would be able to do little more than construct a three dams on the 274-point-eight-million dollars it will receive from the U.S.

MORE MONEY

This country's champion of the arts—the Canada Council—wants more money from the government. It has asked that its 50-million dollar endowment fund be increased by 30-million dollars over the next three years. The council also suggests in a brief to Prime Minister Lester Pearson, that at the end of the three years, an agreement for "additional resources" be made.

LEAVE FOR HOME

Thirty Greek survivors of the ill-fated Lherian transport Ambulaks left Halifax yesterday for home. The other four survivors, including a 33-year-old shipmate Stamatia Poulos, remained behind to complete a marine report of the disaster that claimed two of the 35-man crew.

ENDS IN FAILURE

OFU wants self-employed in federal pensions

Victoria, Canada (Ontario) Farmers' Union has resolved to petition the federal government for legislation to provide self-employed persons the opportunity of participating in the proposed pension plan. A resolution to this effect was passed at a meeting held at the home of the county secretary-treasurer Stanley Smith by Bury's Green.

The resolution reads: "Whereas, the self-employed person will have to help pay the government's part of the new pension plan, also the employee's share of the employee's pension will be added to the cost of production and passed on to the buyer and indirectly the self-employed person will be helping to pay the cost of production and it was employer's share. Therefore agreed to send county director (secretary-treasurer Stanley Smith) that the Ontario Farmers' Union petition director Mrs. Russell Goudin of the Federal government to hand as delegates.

give the self-employed person the opportunity to be eligible to the pension by paying a premium at the same rate as an employee."

A decision took place at the meeting on the policy of the Ontario Farmers' Union in regard to marketing boards. It was decided to present a brief to the Farm Products Marketing Board at a hearing in Peterboro.

The O.F.U. seminar at Guelph being held in the Park View was discussed and it was agreed to send county director Mr. John Alton and women's director Mrs. Russell Goudin as delegates.

Only two undefeated rinks after playing four rounds

(United Press International) There are only two undefeated rinks after four rounds in the Canadian Curling Championships. They are British Columbia and Saskatchewan. However, Lyley Dugg's strong Vancouver group held a half-game lead over the four-time Brier champion Ernie Richardson of Regina. Dugg, who says his task "is curling real well", knocked off winless Newfoundland 15-4 in yesterday morning's third round and then were given a mid-career by Art Burke's host Charlotteville (2-3) fourtime in the afternoon fourth round before coming on to win 12-0.

The Richardson had the morning by and don't catch up with B-C in games played until tonight when Dugg gets the bye. The two western rinks, through luck of the draw, don't meet until Friday morning in the 10th round in what shapes up as the "big" game of the 1964 round robin competition for the MacDonald Brier tankard.

Manitoba's Bruce Hudson of Winnipeg, off to a poor start with a pair of opening day losses to Saskatchewan and Prince Edward Island, won a pair yesterday to even his record at 2-2.

Hudson first edged Alberta and then came on strong in the latter stages of the afternoon game with Bob Mann of Hanover, Ontario, to win handily 11-5.

Baseball Briefs

(United Press International) Chicago White Sox third baseman Pete Ward has been hospitalized after suffering a back injury during infield practice yesterday. Ward's injury was described as "an acute strain". The White Sox physician would not estimate how long Ward would be out of uniform but indicated that he may have to be placed in traction.

Outfielder Geiger of the Boston Red Sox is resting comfortably in a St. Louis hospital after undergoing his second operation in two weeks. Geiger underwent surgery at the end of February for a bleeding ulcer and had another operation Monday for an obstruction in the lower intestines. Geiger is scheduled to re-enter in the hospital one more week.

Lillian Carol Nixon wed in Manilla United Church

Pictured above following their wedding in Manilla United Church are Mr. and Mrs. David Chester Nixon. The bride is the former Lillian Carol Nixon daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Nixon of Manilla and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hill, of R. 2, Beaverton.

Baskets of yellow and white flowers decorated Manilla United Church, on February 22, 1964 at 4 p.m. when Lillian Carol Nixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Nixon of Manilla and David Chester Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hill, of R. 2, Beaverton, were united in marriage.

Rev. Wm. Brignall officiated and the soloist was Cliff Prophet, of Beaverton. He was accompanied by Mrs. Jean Barker, of Victoria Square. Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a short white peau de soie sleeveless dress with French lace jacket which was tied at the neck and styled with three-quarter length sleeves. Her headpiece of seed pearls and crystal held a waist-length veil which was of the same lace as the jacket and she carried a white Bible with gardenias and pink roses with streamers.

The maid-of-honor was Miss Judith Nixon, sister of the bride, of Manilla and the bridesmaids were Miss Mary Ellen Hill, sister of the groom, of R2 Beaverton and Miss Janet Brier, cousin of the bride, of 26 Church St. South, Richmond Hill. They were identically gowned in yellow brocade dresses with matching pillbox headpieces, which were of the same material as their dresses, and they carried bouquets of yellow tulips with white hydrangeas in their framework of their current program and budgetary limits.

The best man was Gerald West, friend of the groom, of Uxbridge and the ushers were Joe Hill, brother of the groom, of R2 Beaverton and east funds behind it.

Chances of games being televised seem very slim

(United Press International) Chances of the 1964 Tokyo Olympic games being televised by way of a space satellite seems very slim unless Japan can raise five-million-dollars. The United States says it cannot for the bill.

U.S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration director James Webb says it would be impossible for NASA bouquets of yellow tulips to televise the games within framework of its current program and budgetary limits. Webb said, however, NASA is prepared to render full technical assistance to any project that has sufficient money to fund behind it.

Magistrate labels defendant "tough, smart-alec, coward"

A Lindsay youth who was labelled a "tough, smart-alec, coward" by Magistrate Guest in court Monday was assessed a total of $100 for violating the law. Murray Quibell was charged on charges of careless driving, failing to produce an insurance certificate and failing to report change of ownership.

A further charge of dangerous driving was dismissed. Jack Godridge, of Oshawa, testified that he and a companion were driving down Kent St. on the night in question and were preparing to make a turn at the foot of Kent St. onto Lindsay St. South, had been out for the accused and forced into the curb.

Godridge testified that he had followed the car out to the intersection of 25 and 7, down 7 and at the junction of Angela St. had stopped the car containing the accused and four other youths to ask why he had been forced to the curb.

Godridge went on to tell the court that there was a slight exchange of words and then one of the youths said, "do you want a wrench wrapped around your head?"

Later, as he was heading for home, said Godridge, a car had gone up behind him, pushed him forward and began pushing him at speeds up to 60 miles an hour.

"I was very scared your worship," he said, "and when the car attempted to pass me I kept in the centre of the road afraid he would run me in the ditch." Later he summed up, as the car passed, one of the passengers leaned over and bent the radio aerial on the rear fender.

He had then come into town and got the police who later stopped Quibell. (The passenger with Godridge later corroborated the testimony.)

Quibell testified that it was the other way around and that Godridge had been between his car and the curb on the first occasion as he

Mrs. Bennett and Steve J. Maloney, who won $25 for his part in it, look on. Proceeds from the event will be used in part to help Lindsay's Retarded Children fund.

Gwyneth did as she was bid

Derby, England-(UPI)—When six-year-old Gwyneth Davies received an income tax assessment form from Britain's Inland Revenue Department, recently her mother told her to ignore it and to stop worrying. But reminder from the department simply could not be ignored, the youngster told her mother. So she carefully filled in the form, giving her money as "sixpence (seven cents a week pocket money)." Yesterday, the red-faced Derby branch apologized in a letter to Gwyneth for their mistake.

Ops renews fire contract with Lindsay

Ops township council accepted the renewal of the fire agreement between Lindsay and the township Monday, providing the new water tanker recently purchased by the Lindsay department accompanies any equipment called out to a fire. The agreement, the same as last year, calls for a retainer of $2,000 and $175 for each individual call. Deputy-Reeve Rogers wanted to know if the fire department would be responsible for the payment, if the fire department were to be recalled while fighting a township fire. The contract says that they may be recalled if required in Lindsay. It was noted that this problem has not come up but members felt assured that the fire chief would not "leave them up in the air". As to the new water tanker,

Dismisses impaired charge but recommends checkup

Magistrate C. W. Guest dismissed a charge of impaired driving against an Oakwood man Monday but recommended the matter be brought before the court if the driver's condition, the accused's licence be withheld until a proper test could be made of the man's physical condition. Michael Serediuk told the court that on the night in question he had taken sick, which caused him to pull his car off the road and made him stagger when the police questioned him. Dr. Peter Gill of Lindsay testified that he had been treating the accused for an ear ailment, which at times would cause dizziness, vomiting. The attack would also cause the accused to lose his balance at times, said the doctor. The arresting officer told the court that Serediuk had been unsteady on his feet and offered him $20 to "forget a bout it" and his speech had been very quick. Serediuk admitted to having a drink the night before. "I don't think you're a safe man behind a wheel in your present condition," said the magistrate, and recommend a thorough examination.

"Lucky to live in town where river doesn't flood" Council Quicksies

"We are lucky to live in a town where the river does not rise in flood and endanger any property," said Reeve R. I. Moore at Lindsay council Monday evening. Mr. Moore was referring to a letter council received from the Department of Lands and Forests regarding precautions that should be taken to protect against flooding during the spring breakup, and stating where such items as sand bags might be obtained. The Lands and Forest letter was passed to the Board of Works and the Engineer for study. Chairman Hutchinson, felt it would be a necessity at all times but was assured by councillor Mossom James that last year's agreement had included the tank. "I think they (the fire department) will live up to that agreement, although it is not mentioned in this year's contract," said Mr. James.

Opposition overruled

Aim to give further study to public schools. Councillor Russell Taylor wants to get together with the Lindsay Public School Board to discuss the school situation and he's going to try to do just that. He moved a motion to this effect at Monday's Lindsay Council meeting and it carried.

Despite opposition from Councillor Dr. Peter Gill, Councillor Taylor was supported in his motion to have a committee formed to meet with the public school board "to study and give further consideration to the matter of providing additional public school facilities in the town."

I am opposed to this motion," stated Councillor Dr. Gill. "The school board is dealing with this matter all ready."

Councillor Brown said the reason the matter had been brought up was so the council could put before the school board council's views.

A committee of Councillors Taylor, Logan, Finney and Brown was formed to meet with the school board. Councillors Dr. Gill and John Ekins voted against the motion.

Chairman Reeve Moore said this motion should be taken as expressing the interest of council in the school question. "However," he said, "I agree with Dr. Gill. You will have to get the school board to agree to set up the meeting as it is in their jurisdiction."

RINGWORM MAKES HER LOOK LIKE INDIAN

Dear Dr. Steinhorn: My 50 better find out what you from problem is ringworm. I've had have. But the decision will have to rest with the doctor, I say choose. I suggest you see a qualified urologist for diagnosis and operation. I was only partially identical. It is a minor operation, circumscribed as an infant and child. You will not have to the skin but was left to com- pletely causing discomfort. I in the hospital. That's not feel I need a circumcision to much sacrifice when you con- sider it of that excess skin but under how much it will put me I feel embarrassed and heal- my mind at ease.

Comment: You are only 18 years old. I feel that you are confused. What does one do when one has a medical problem? See a doctor. In your case, a skin specialist or you say I need major surgery? How long in the hospital? I am content to see just any doctor about it. My regular physician, I did a short time ago. Would he not be able to take care of you? My family doctor is good as they come, but he just doesn't have the experience.

Where did you get the diag- nosis of ringworm? Is it your own, a friend's or your doctor's? If it is a nonmedical diagnosis better get a real one. You can't guess that it's ringworm. Your doctor will tell you. Some scrapings of the skin under a microscope and he doctors have seen and heard of every conceivable problem here, but he wants the human race. Will it affect my heart? I am grossly concerned and I am emotional, keep re- doing it up within a few weeks or months.

There is a condition called ringworm (dermatophytosis) which sometimes re- to help.

Color Camera Club judges slides

A large number of slides were entered in the evening's contest in the categories of landscapes, sea- scapes, fall and winter scenes. After the judging and com- ments the three members with the highest scores were: 1. Mrs. Young, 2. Mr. Lightbody 3. Mr. Burke.

An instruction set of slides from Anson Camera Club Service was shown and gave many helpful hints on "Color Photography at Night". Anyone interested in photography is invited to come along to the L.C.V.I. Library the second Wednesday of every month.

doctor who found time to sit down with me for at least a few minutes to explain and re- lieve my mind. I think that's as important as the pill you are taking every morning.

My guess is that you mean that your basal metabolism test was minus 22 and that you're receiving thyroid ex- tract. There's little reason to be concerned about that, but if it were me, I'd seek another heart.

STOP!... killing yourself

By Peter J. Steinerhorn, M.D., F.A.C.P.

BELL'S PALSY
Getting there fastest with the mostest is certainly as needfully true of an attack on disease as it is on a military foe.

But in spite of how we hammer home that truth, it is human nature to procrastinate or just amble along in our efforts to overcome disease. For instance, consider Bell's palsy, and this letter:

Dear Dr. Steinerhorn: I am writing to you, to hoping you will be able to help me. I have had Bell's palsy since December 1967. It was a complete droop of the left side of my face with numbness and very little muscle control. For some time I had no more exercises. My left eyes closes almost completely when I pucker my mouth. There are muscles abnormally pulled when I speak. I feel lip-locked and is badly deformed. Can something be done in this condition or is it hopeless.

ACTION IS LATE
Comment: Six years too late? What good would it do to tell the odds about the hopelessness of locking the bars after the horse has been slain?

I wish I could be more helpful at this stage, but only a neurologist can give you the proper advice at this time. Others will benefit from a consideration of Bell's palsy. Some patients will swear they go sitting in a draft office or say they have no idea how or why it came. Opinions vary. All we know is there is an involvement of the facial nerve which causes facial paralysis, sometimes accompanied by interference with taste and hearing. When there is pain it is usually limited only to one side of the head and neck on the paralyzed side.

According to G.A. Dalton, M.B., of United Birmingham Hospitals, England, the patient can expect total recovery from the paralysis if the initial paralysis is incomplete and the signs regress within six weeks after onset.

MANY CURED
In treating the patient a splint is applied to prevent overstretching of the muscles by drag of the paralyzed side of the face. He receives medicine to control the pain, bed rest for a while, and radiant heat to control discomfort.

After the pain disappears, the doctor gives a galvanic (electrical) stimulation once daily, and then about twice a week. Patient is instructed on how to exercise muscles.

With this regime, 98 attacks of Bell's palsy in 97 patients, 61 ended in complete and 38 in partial recovery. Of course there is no guarantee that the patient who presents himself to recover, but in any illness, his chances are better.

For Mrs. H.: Yes, I'd call kleptomania a neurological symptom. The uncontrollable urge to steal even objects which are of no value is somehow tied up with an abnormal emotional drive.

For Mrs. E.: Akeloid is an

STOP!... killing yourself

It is, using those terms. In my Symposium sponsored by the husband in any danger. I, Myosium Heart Institute. Approximately 400 experts from all over the world attended. I have coronary and about 50 gave scientific findings on their studies.

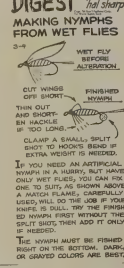

One team of doctors said that chances of survival with use of blood thinners were increased in a ratio of 2 to 1. Another group from Oregon found no decrease in death rates. A Danish heart specialist found no change in death rates. He studied 1,000 patients and found no difference in mortality rate.

On the one hand, some say there's less danger of repeat attacks while taking these drugs and fewer complications (like phlebitis and pulmonary embolism) when taking blood thinners. Therefore, Mrs. T. and Mrs. L. suggest that you place full confidence in their recommendations. However, the method

Comment: For years I've been a conservative re-drug and fewer complications. This should be helpful to many patients who are distraught if their doctor does or doesn't prescribe Heparin or Dicumarol (anticoagulants).

Dear Dr. Steincron: My husband recently had a coronary attack. His doctor doesn't believe in prescribing blood thinners. I am very much concerned. Our neighbor and friend also had an attack. His doctor, a well-known specialist

EDUCATORS . . .

ONE OF THE DISADVANTAGES . . .

The International Snowmobile Competitions held last week at its regular site in the town of Sunday at Lakeshore, Ont., just north of Toronto, attracted large numbers of people to the Kawartha Lakes area. It was not, however, without some of the negative aspects of the event was the fact that it completely snarled up traffic on two main arteries, as well as the annoyance and inconvenience to those motorists who were making a through trip and not intent on putting to the competitions. It was apparent, even with excellent police supervision, that the local highways were not equipped to handle the surge with large numbers of vehicles. The on-the-spot hold ups were corrected. It was, for most motorists, a question of waiting and exorcising what patience they could.

Probably the cause of part of the traffic slowdown lay in the fact that there was only one entrance to the grounds, a situation which would not be repeated in the future. The exit was almost as painfully slow and in some instances, an ambulance moving out of the grounds was severely hampered by the descending avalanche of vehicles. An emergency exit would no doubt recommend itself at future events.

Attention at another snowmobile meet might also be directed at more control of spectator-participation. Spectators had to keep their eyes peeled sharply if they wanted to be caught up in the confusion and chaos of a major disaster definition of areas would have eliminated this fault.

Notwithstanding a few things like this, which are sometimes typical of such events, the whole of the weekend of sports and excitement, plenty of good coffee available at the Peterboro Lions Club tent, some lively music by "The Kavaliers" and those who like to get out of the house and into the snow, all helped to hold their interest. To borrow a phrase from that master showman—Bill Sullivan—it was "a really big day" from the standpoint of attendance and participation.

EASTER SEAS TIME AGAIN . . . . .

Easter comes early again this year. The Ontario Society for Crippled Children has advised that the Easter Seals campaign absolutely, but this is one appeal which touches the hearts of all but those who harden their hearts toward children and who are few and far between. It is an appeal which is designed to relieve suffering and ease the road of life for children who either enter the world with a crippling handicap or who develop early in life. The Ontario Society for Crippled Children has advised that the Easter Seals campaign is in this cause if it is within their means to do otherwise.

The society presents its case very nicely in these words:

"No one knocks at your door to sell Easter Seals! The entire campaign—the message of hope and opportunity for crippled children—is put squarely to you and to a lot of others. You are asked to contribute to the cause worthy enough, return your contribution in the pink envelope that has been supplied.

Each year, almost 100,000 children are born in Ontario. The Ontario Society for Crippled Children and its associated service clubs in 230 communities in Ontario is vital information to more than 10,000 crippled children, their families and adults. The Ontario Society for Crippled Children, through its nursing program, treatment centres, camps, clinics, provision of equipment, transportation and so on its department, the children of Ontario. The Ontario Society for Crippled Children in 1984.

"During the forty year history of the Ontario Society for Crippled Children, the Ontario Society for Crippled Children has been able to have the way for a program which has no equal in the world. This efficient rehabilitation program that helps improve the lives of crippled children in all parts of this province."

"Each year, Easter Seal dollars help a rehabilitation team made up of doctors, therapists, nurses, braille-makers, teachers and volunteers to help and ease and diagnose hundreds of crippling conditions. Each case is considered and followed through individually. At that moment in time, the Ontario Society for Crippled Children is at the best of his or her ability in a fruitful life without the shackles of dependency."

The Ontario Seal gift is of some help to a crippled child.

YES, WHY NOT?

Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson is reported in the press to be considering the idea of people of Canada voting on the explosive controversial hot issue. The way he says "Yes, why not?" It has been so long since we have had a Canada (and area close to home) have had any sort of a referendum that it is almost time to let, otherwise the idea that this is a democracy may become mired under by bureaucracy. Yes, the vote on the issue is not a referendum, but it is of major importance that comes along. If the people can't speak for themselves in a democracy, the whole purpose of a majority rule and the system of government will be calling the tune.

An election is very costly.

The former prime minister of Canada—the Hon. John Diefenbaker—seems intent on forcing this country into another election regardless of the fact that the economic situation is not good. The fact that the major opposition apparently chooses to ignore the fact that his own image in the public eye hasn't noticeably improved despite the fact that the party chose to run him as their leader.

Mr. Diefenbaker and his followers have had a wonderful opportunity to demonstrate to the people of Canada that they are primarily interested in the country's welfare and not their own desire for power,

Dog lovers need not be concerned that we are out to banish the canine breed. However, it surely is not too much to expect that the police and the courts be served by every pet owner, whether or not there is a dog catcher on duty in the municipality. It is strange that oftentimes dogs are treated as if they were human beings. If a person is not tearing up and down the streets, brushing into persons and upsetting garbage pails, he would be picked up by the local constabulary. If a dog is on a leash and on a leash, an immediate and neighbors shrugs he would be charged with indecency at the very least. And if he tried to nip an ankle, even if it was a child, he would be charged with a criminal offence with a psychiatrist would be lined up for appointment.

Dog lovers should realize their pets are not entitled to any special privileges. They should be made observe the same restrictions as persons must. After all, they are not sacred cows, they are only dogs.

GOING TO THE DOGS AGAIN

Following close on the resignation of the dog control officer, dogs are again appearing on the streets, roaming about in groups of three or four, and causing residents. We have heard of at least one person being bitten and another an elderly gentleman, frightened much by his own dogs. It is a sense, not so important as whether or not it is a sense, not so important as what should worry all of it that such incidences are the safest points to occur if they haven't already occurred. It is a sense, not so important as what should worry all of it that such incidences are the safest points to occur if they haven't already occurred.

THE SAFEST SPOTS IN ONTARIO

Many towns and smaller communities there in Ontario have traffic safety records we may well envy. Some of these towns are: (1) St. Catharines, (2) Niagara Falls, (3) Hamilton, (4) London, (5) Windsor, (6) Toronto, (7) Ottawa, (8) Kingston, (9) Kitchener, (10) Mississauga, (11) Brampton, (12) ### Administrator outlines reasons underlying hospital plan increase

The total cost of operating Ontario's public general hospitals will be more than $16 million dollars this year, more than $1 million more than last year, and the 1953 level and the price of vital hospital supplies remained the same.

Administrator E. Freeborn told Ross Memorial Hospital governors last week.

He was outlining some of the reasons for the recent increase in hospital insurance premiums feeling it would benefit members if approached by the public.

He said that one of the reasons was the $200 new active treatment hospital beds put in to service last year, which increased hospital operating costs by more than $2,100 per bed per year.

He also noted that more than 6,000 new hospital beds added throughout the province since the plan was introduced in January 1950 which meant that many thousands of additional patients were receiving care each year.

"This is one of the major reasons why income from hospital insurance premiums which originally covered over 40% of our operating costs was by December 1953, covering only approximately 30% of the total hospital insurance bill," he said.

Mr. Freeborn also noted that since 1950, close to 15,000 full-time and over 3,000 part-time hospital beds added to the hospital's capacity.

"So when you consider that almost 75% of our total operating costs go for salaries and wages, it is not hard to understand why hospital costs have increased," added Mr. Freeborn.

He further noted that although over 95% of the population of Ontario was insured under the plan, and there was no doubt the demand for hospital services would continue to increase, board members and administrators had well aware of their obligations to ensure top efficiency throughout their institutions and were striving constantly for improvement for each dollar spent.

Randall, Ontario Minister of Economics and Developments, writes: "I undertake, therefore, to thank you for your long and dedicated service to both myself, as the present minister for public housing, and to my predecessors as well as our several federal colleagues. It goes without saying that your work with the authority is recognized and appreciated to no greater extent by all the citizens of your home community. Please accept my

DOES SHUR-GAIN FERTILIZER STAY BALANCED THROUGHOUT HANDLING AND SPREADING?

Put it in a jute shaker—shake it all you want and you can prove to yourself that every granule of SHUR-GAIN Selected-Granulated Fertilizer stays nutritionally balanced all the time.

Proven before granulation, SHUR-GAIN Selected-Granulated consists of granules each of which contain all the guaranteed plant food elements. The size and weight of the granules is kept within certain limits by careful screening.

Separation of fertilizer ingredients cannot take place with SHUR-GAIN Fertilizer—during transportation, handling and spreading. With ordinary, blended or granular fertilizers malice and heavier particles will settle to the bottom, while the larger and lighter particles come to the surface.

Shaking SHUR-GAIN in a jute shaker is one way of proving its quality but a better way is to make sure you apply SHUR-GAIN Selected-Granulated Fertilizer on your crops in spring—your guarantee that every square inch covered will have exactly the analysis you want.

Blackwater structure of unusual design

Some examples of architecture to be found in this district have a way of catching the eye. The unusual looking building seen in the picture above would probably stump a panel trying to guess what it was used for in the past. It was a turnip factory. Up to ten years ago the factory in Blackwater canned and waxed turnips and employed seven or eight people. Closed out as an industry, the building now owned by a Hamilton man stands empty, most of the machinery having been removed.

At A Standstill

The Skitch Buttons are at a standstill, i.e., John McCrea and his quartet happened to be on the verge of winning five games in a row and thus earning the right to wear a permanent set. However, Skip Andy Widdis and his rink upset the appalcart in the last clash and now Widdis must defend the buttons for four more games. It is surprising there are not more entries for the Skitch Buttons. They provide interesting and good sport for lovers of curling. Why not make up a foursome and enter the competition?

Judy Robinson

Meant for ice-boaters?

Unless the "no parking" sign seen above was intended for ice boaters, it may be doomed to a useless existence because when the ice moves out of the river just east of the Lindsay St. N. bridge, it will sink to the bottom (and it won't have far to go), there to rust out its remaining years.

Seagrave

Shoe repair shop gitted by menacing night fire

High winds compound firefighters' problems

Scenes from the York Street fire, an aerial ladder (top photo) reaches to the roof as black smoke billows around the area and below, firemen run out additional hoses from the fire bell.

Gord's Shoe Repair store on York Street was completely gitted by fire last night and the loss is estimated at about $2,000.

Firemen were first alerted by Dawn Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Evans who operate the Ray Chick Hatchery across the road from the shoe repair store.

Mrs. Evans noticed fire and smoke coming from the upper floor around 8 p.m. and asked her daughter to call the fire department.

In view of the high winds prevailing, as an added precaution against the fire getting out of control, Fire Chief Arnold Watson called in departments from Little Britain, Fenelon Falls and Onemee. He said only the men were required, but additional hose was strung out in case of emergency.

Smoke damage was considerable, the fire chief said, and employees of the Industrial Acappliance Corporation, whose offices are in the adjoining building had to evacuate owing to the dense smoke.

Thick smoke also filled the, as yet unopened, new store of Houser's Men's Wear and the Lindsay Gift Shop.

There were no injuries to firemen, however, the proprietor of the store, Gordon Foster suffered severe cuts on his arms when he attempted to break through a window into his store to rescue his pet owl kept in a cage. He was unsuccessful however, and the bird suffocated from the heat and smoke. Mr. Foster was rushed to Ross Memorial Hospital by police courier where several stitches were needed to close the wounds.

Mr. Foster had been located at the store on York Street for just one year on Monday, March 2nd.

Brake failure believed factor in 2-car pileup

Brake failure is believed to have been responsible for a two-car accident Thursday afternoon on Wellington St. when a 1955 Oldsmobile sustained damage of about $200.

Police say a car being driven by James Quakenbush of RR5 Lindsay collided with the rear of another vehicle being driven by Paul Cayley of RR2 Lindsay. They state that Cayley had stopped at the intersection preparing to turn onto Cambridge St. when the accident occurred.

Quakenbush reportedly told police his brakes had failed to hold when he applied them resulting in the collision.

Neither driver was hurt.

SORT, PRETTY DRESSES TAKE OVER SPRING

A soft spring is in the air for dresses, with the mood of the new season reflected in the gentle fit and feminine details of collared blouses, skirtsuits and skimmer styles.

Bloating bias cuts, ruffles, pleats, softly drawn necklines and sleeves, droopy collars and big floppy bows are sure to make every woman look and feel her prettiest this spring.

Easy-skirted styles have new swing and flare, while fuller skirts make a cone-back. In a spring of romantic dresses, it's only natural that many of the most feminine and flattering styles have soft empire shaping.

But the dropped waistline is youthfully important, too. In stretch-out waistline looks that often end in a flounce or flare.

The natural waistline makes fashionable reappearance for spring in dresses with soft, blousey bodices and fuller skirts.

Spring's new costume concepts include stretched-out pleated skirt dresses with blazer jackets, dresses with caplets, and sleeved dresses with sleeveless coats.

The gently-shaped cone dress and pseudo-out which is really a one-piece dress that just looks like a suit, complete the spring dress picture.

Spring's sleeve is long and slender, deep and wide, funnel or cape shaped. Although the sleeved look is most feminine, there will be plenty of sleeveless dresses for women who prefer them.

Necklines make news for spring. After the rure goes down, daring dresses really go to town with beautifully draped scoop, circular and plunging necklines replacing the "covered-up" look.

The long dress is now a specialty for elegant and spring will see a romantic array of toe-to-floor chiffon and lace looks.

Pin stripes are started for spring in dresses that play up the collar and big bow, or a complementary print.

Who's afraid of the big bold print? Nobody it seems, for fashion has gone all-out for the spectacular this spring and many of the smartest dresses around are in beautifully important abstract and floral prints.

FASHION HINTS

Don't Overdress — If you're not sure about how dressy an occasion is to be underdressed. You'll be a lot safer than if you show up in a flimsy and stand alone in your glory.

Jewels Ride High — The newest way to wear costume jewelry plans is to place them as close to the shoulder as possible. If they're not too big, wear two.

Trying Weight — Bulky and shaggy wool coats may look as though they will be too heavy to carry on your shoulders. Actually, they are lighter than ever. Try them on and you'll find out.

Back in Picture — The fringe, which is back in the fashion picture. It is often seen in a triangular shape in plaid and is a wonderful accessory for wool dresses.

See All Angles — When women buy a hat, she should not make the mistake of looking at it from a front view only, trying both sides and the back as well. If all angles don't pass muster, don't buy the hat.

HOW CAN I ???

Q. Have you any suggestions to offer on the installation of new glass in metal casement windows?

A. Be sure to leave at least a 1/4-inch clearance on all sides of the pane — otherwise, you'll be having cracked glass during cold weather. During cold weather, steel window frames contract and, if the glass fits perfectly tight, the frames will squeeze and crack it.

Q. How can I clean chrome?

A. Descale, incrustate and effective method of cleaning chrome surfaces is by using baking soda on a dry cloth, or kerosene on a damp one.

Q. How can I remedy sagging chain seats?

A. By weighing them with hot water, and then drying them in a warm place.

Up To Individual

As to hair styles and make-up — those beauty features are up to the individual — keeping in mind that with the hair brims so wide this spring there will be little chance to show the coiffure — or get a sunburn.

Woodville, proudly boasts of an annual affair. Isabel Smithers skipped a smart rink to the position of winner at the some stiff competition. Maureen Kelsey landed in second place and Mrs. E. Trebleo and place and Mrs. E. Trebleo in third place.

The ruling regarding the sliding delivery has been strengthened. Previously the slide had to finish at the hog line and if any part of the body passed over the line the rule was automatically taken out of play. The rule has been added to and no part of the equipment (the broom) is allowed to pass over the blue line.

On Saturday next, the Club will hold an open mixed "spiel" and on March 17 Woodville will send rinks to the St. Patrick's Day special event at Woodbury.

Woodville will be represented at the annual Farmer's Bazaar on Saturday March 11 with Roy Smithers at the helm.

Active members of the Woodville Club include three or four gentlemen who have passed the three score and ten expert opponents of the game. These two veterans of time and beam include Cecil Smith, Ted Thompson and W. Thorpe.

Following a long series of games Carl Trebleo has been declared Club Champion for the 1963-64 season. He has also represented the club at a number of out of town bonspiels.

Six enthusiastic rinks from Woodville took part in the open event at Beaverton a few days ago and Lorne McPherson returned with a piece of the pot.

An event also anticipated with keen interest, the Leads and Seconds and Vice Skips and Skips bonspiel has been launched and competition is keen.

By far one of the most exciting competitions staged by the Woodville Club is known as the Saddle Hawkins bonspiel.

Cannington Legionettes bring home another trophy

Cannington (PNS)—Despite the lack of home ice on which to practice, the Cannington Legionettes brought home another trophy last Saturday, and that being from the girls hockey tournament held in Parry Sound. The team won this same trophy in their last season, and it was not lost in the arena fire in December. Mr. Baragar of Parry Sound, the donor of the award, very generously replaced the award.

Eight teams were in competition, being from Midland, Newmarket, Alliston, Humberstone, Uxbridge, Don Mills, and the Cannington Legionettes. In a rough and tumble championship game the local Legionettes blanked the Parry Sound team 4-0.

Gladys Williams of the Legionettes was the best player of age four.

In goal for Cannington was Linda Lovell, with forward Gladys Williams, Janice Workman, Sharon McNabb, Elizabeth Wilson, Bonnie Ryland, Carol Wilson and Bonnie Williams. On defence is Joyce Wakelina and Leo Goad. The girls are coached by Watson McNabb.

Baseball Briefs

(United Press International) Teams managed by Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda tied 7-7 in a six-inning intra-league game at the San Francisco Giants Training Camp yesterday. Day third baseman Jimmy Hart and outfielder Dan Markowski each homered during the abbreviated contest.

Cleveland Indians' pitcher Pete Romano, Jerry Walker and Jack Kralick have been named to start against San Francisco Giants for the season's first exhibition at Tucson, Saturday.

Pitcher Don Natshe had led particularly impressive when the Houston Cougars put him and eight other hurlers through a workout yesterday.

An all-scout team of the Boston Red Sox shut out a team of regulars, 5-0, in a seven-inning intra-league game yesterday. Ted Williams, special batting assistant for the Sox, arrived at the Scottsdale, Arizona, camp yesterday.

Detroit make determined move to overtake Maple Leafs

(United Press International) While Chicago and Montreal are jumping in and out of first place in the National Hockey League, the Detroit Red Wings are making a determined move to overtake the third place Toronto Maple Leafs.

The Red Wings moved within two points of the Leafs with a 7-5 victory over Montreal last night.

Thanks to Detroit's win, it was Chicago's turn to go into first place. The Hawks battled the Boston Bruins to a 4-4 tie in Boston.

Gordie Howe was the stand-out for the Red Wings, scoring a key second period goal and assisting on Parker MacDonald's decisive marker in the third period.

The teams traded goals throughout the first two periods but Detroit broke it open in the third with two goals.

Red Hay's 21st goal of the season gave the Black Hawks their comeback tie with the Bruins.

Hay's third period goal came on a combination play with Pierre Pilote and Stan Mikita. Two Boston players and one Black Hawk were in the penalty box at the time.

Orland Kurtenbach had two Boston goals with Murray Oliver and John Bucyk netting the others.

PeeWee series playdowns feature Saturday event

Ontario Minor Hockey, third round provincial play-down in the Pee Wee series will be the feature attraction at the Kiwanis Arena tomorrow afternoon at four-thirty. The highly regarded Trenton Pee Wees who claim to have been undefeated in twenty-two games of Pee Wee action, will meet the Lindsay All Star PeeWees in the second game of their home and home total goal series. The first game of the series ended in a one all tie at Trenton last Sunday.

To-morrow afternoon's attraction deserves evening billing in the matter of importance since the winner will be only two rounds away from the Provincial Championship. Evening billing would however involve late hours for the wee lads and this is refrained from as much as possible.

Trenton Pee Wees are a fast team, good stick-handlers and puck passers but they lack the weight and depth of the Lindsay club. In the first game each Abercrombie only asked his lads to try to contain the Trenton whirlwind attack and on a combination play with the goal scoring for the home game. They did, very nicely and stazed up their opponents while in the process. So fans, don't let the Pee Wees down, they deserve your support.

Money returned tenfold installed new organ!

Many residents of Haliburton when he was minister at the United Church. At the time the Reverend gentleman issued hundreds of dollars to his parishioners and then returned the money to the church. The story goes that every greenback was returned ten times over, and as a result the church was redecorated and a new organ installed. Rev. Smyth preached for several years in Yonge Street United Church, Toronto before going to the Parkdale United at Ottawa.

Here is the article by W.G. Ketchum from the Ottawa Journal:

While a comparative newcomer to Ottawa, Rev. Gordon C. Smyth as minister of Parkdale United Church has already made his impress on the community.

He has innate friendliness of manner and approachable problems however controversial with unusual frankness. He believes for instance that "the Protestant Reformation is uncompleted until there is Christian unity." He feels that while unity was not going to happen overnight the various denominations were getting closer to it.

Mr. Smyth is of New England descent and his forebears were United Empire Loyalists who followed the flag to Canada.

PEMBROKE NATIVE
Born in Pembroke, he is the son of E. Ellsworth Smyth, 85, retired businessman who now lives at Carleton Lodge.

Gordon Smyth was educated at Pembroke Public School and Pembroke Collegiate. He graduated in Arts at Queen's in 1942 and in Theology in 1944. While obtaining his B.A. he majored in political science, winning the Adam Short Scholarship.

Graduates of Queen's University are noted for their almost fanatical loyalty to their alma mater.

Plan tree planting programs now, advise Lands and Forests

The Ontario Department of winter, and beauty 365 days! Lands and Forests are once again reminding farmers, and rural residents to begin planning their tree planting programs.

The latest weekly report reminds them that regardless of the changing March weather with snow, water, and mud, it is time now to plan for gardens, lawns, spring seedling and trees.

"Nothing enhances the appearance of your property more than a group of healthy, well spaced trees, providing shade in the summer and shelter from wind and snow in the

Any private landowner can obtain trees for planting from the Department of Lands and Forests provided that his property contains at least 2 acres of land exclusive of buildings. The price is just $1.00 per hundred for trees of all species except scotch pine which is $1.40 per hundred.

The following varieties of softwoods can usually be obtained: white pine, red pine, jack pine, white spruce, white cedar and scotch pine. Hardwoods of the following species are also available, white ash, silver maple, red oak, carolina poplar and black locust.

What species would be best for your needs? That depends on the soil, the location, the purpose the trees are to serve and many other considerations.

Professional assistance is available to property owners who may wish advice regarding the proper species to plant, spacing, method of planting, etc. A graduate Forester will inspect the property and advise the landowner on the proper planting procedures and technique. There is of course, no charge for this service.

You may still order trees for this spring's planting, but applications should be submitted as soon as possible or you may be disappointed. Application forms may be obtained from any Lands and Forests office, or may be mailed to you on request.

Start planting gloxinia tubers

The Gloxinia is one of the most beautiful house plants. It has large, velvety leaves and large, broad, tubular flowers of many colors. It may be grown from tubers, cuttings or seed. Horticulturists with the Ontario Department of Agriculture suggests starting tubers this month.

Plant the tubers with their crowns just showing, in a mixture of equal parts peat and sand. As soon as the plants are large enough replant them in 5 to 6 inch pots. Use a soil mixture consisting of 1 part soil, 1 part peat and one half part sand. Set the plants at the same depth as in the starting mixture.

The plants need a well-lighted location but should be shaded from direct, strong sun. The temperature should be kept at 60 to 65 degrees F. Keep them moist but do not overwater and avoid wetting the foliage.

Gloxinias bloom from May to September. In the fall, gradually dry and rest the tubers in pots of soil. The temperature should not fall below 45 degrees F. then in the following February they may be restarted.

Gloxinia plants may be started from leaf cuttings. A cutting, when rooted, will produce a tuber and then a plant which will flower in about 5 months.

More municipal dumps to keep vacation areas clean

Local municipal authorities in the Lindsay district are co-operating this summer with summer residents by making every effort to provide suitable garbage dumps at convenient locations throughout the vacation areas.

The summer season is fast approaching, and the latest report from the Department of Lands and Forests reminds cottage owners of the garbage dumping situation.

"Most of us know" it reads, "how revolting it is to find a favorite back road strewn with garbage."

"We also know how dangerous cans, bottles, etc., can be on the beaches and in the water."

It adds that the municipalities will try to provide suitable dumps for the cottage owners' convenience, and notes these few simple rules to enhance this beautiful vacation beach land.

Learn the location of the nearest dump and use it; if you are picnicking and there is no dump in the vicinity gather up your garbage and take it with you. If boating take your garbage ashore and burn it in a safe place, deposit it on the nearest garbage dump or take it with you. Never deposit garbage in lakes or streams. When camping make sure your camp site is left neat and tidy. Never leave in cans where small animals are liable to become trapped in them.

Victoria Riding changing Lamb tells Parliament

Charles Lamb, MP for Victoria Riding, spoke to the House of Commons of changes taking place in his riding. Mr. Lamb spoke of the changes in Haliburton county from a numbering district to a tourist region, and the development of Lindsay from the hub of a farming community to that of an industrial town.

Here is his speech. When parliament is in session we hear many debates and speeches on many diversified subjects from many fine representatives of great many constituencies. There are times when I think we should forget weighty matters pertaining to Canada and the world at large and listen to what our different constituencies have to offer to our people and the world in general.

Named for Queen I am very proud to represent the constituency of Victoria, which includes Haliburton and north Ontario. Since the riding was created after the great and illustrious Queen Victoria and the majority of streets, avenues and parks in the town of Lindsay are named after royalty, nobility, lord, peers and vicounts of the British realm. For instance, we have streets called Kent, Melbourne, Durham, Sussex, Cambridge, Wellington, Queen, King, Albert, Regent, Elgin and Bond.

As years went by the citizens lived up to the name, and the roots of our people have always been planted firm in the commonwealth. This fact has been demonstrated on many occasions when the clarion call of war was heard. Hundreds of our sons and daughters joined the ranks to lead a mighty Canadian army, especially in world war when the monarch of Parliament for Victoria and Haliburton was Canada's first minister of militia, the late Hon. General Sir Sam Hughes.

Victoria County was first essentially an agricultural district. Much depended in those days on the county to the north, Haliburton County, named after Lord Haliburton. The county of Haliburton was, and is to this day, rich in vast timber limits and for years produced lumber. In fact, at one time some of the tallest timber in Canada was found in Haliburton County many thousands of tall, straight trees shorn of their limbs were transported by water through the winding lakes in Haliburton county to the St. Lawrence and plied on ocean-going freighters to the destination of the world. In England these massive timbers were used as a great many constituencies. There are times when I think we should forget weighty matters pertaining to Canada and the world at large and listen to what our different constituencies have to offer to our people and the world in general.

As a side note, it is interesting that only recently another great constituency from Haliburton County was transported to England, namely long steel rails from the old Ironbridge, Bancroft and Ottawa railways. These steel rails, the best in the world, have been reprocessed in the razor blade industry.

With the depletion of vast lumberland the Haliburton people turned their vision and endeavors to another field, that of tourism. And now the highlands of Haliburton are recognized across continents as being the most beautiful, as well as the most productive in the way of fish and game. Haliburton County has 500 square miles and another 500 unnamed lakes. It has tremendous possibilities.

Besides being a vacation land Haliburton County has also mining industries, particularly in regard to uranium. I understand it is to be further exploited. These mines are in the Township of Carleton Place and it is hoped that consideration will be given to the stockpiling of uranium.

North Ontario is a rich farming community with a lot of fine villages with beautiful lakes and summer resorts, one of the many beauties to my riding.

County Town Lindsay is the county town of Victoria County and is better known as the gateway to the Kawartha Lakes. It is fast becoming a town of attractive homes, larger and better schools, a large and commodious churches, and is now on the verge of becoming an industrial centre with two large new industries, added to those we already have, to be located in the area very close to my riding.

The town depends a great deal on the rich agricultural land which surrounds the municipality. It has excellent recreational facilities. Kent St., the main artery, is 100 feet wide. The Scarap River flows through the town from Scarap Lake to Sturgeon Lake. Many thousands of lakes are nestled in the area and within easy reach of the town.

Weather outlook

Haliburton, Eastern Lake Ontario Regions: Lightly Sunny today, Saturday cloudy with a few showers of rain or wet snow. Milder: Winds light today, southerly 15 Saturday. Low tonight and high Saturday at Trenton and Peterboro 28 and 38, Killalee 15 and 35.

Town. Last summer a very impressive ceremony was held at Fendran Plains in Victoria County marking the official opening of the new single light rail. Built as a part of the $15 million Trent Canal improvement program, the new lock will greatly facilitate travel between points above and below the village which is a real necessity in view of the phenomenon of travel along the Trent canal system. In 1963, about 23,000 boats used the Trent Canal system. By 1969, the total had risen to 75,000, and last year the total reached 94,000. Although this route at Kirkfield is the second highest lift lock in Canada.

We also have Victoria County Hogg and Lytle's massive elevators. From these elevators seed grain is shipped all over Canada and the United States.

Reside. I have had numerous letters and petitions from all the Royal Canadian Legion branches, service clubs, ladies' organizations and private individuals in my riding who are very much concerned about our flag, the red ensign, which they all feel should be kept and honoured as our own Canadian flag.

I could tell the house a lot more about my beloved constituency of Victoria, Haliburton and Northern Ontario, the Highlands of Haliburton and the fine town of Lindsay, but I should like to hear other members from different parts of the province tell us something regarding their constituencies. Thank you Mr. Speaker.

Minden site chosen for Senior Citizens' Home

The Haliburton Senior Citizens' Home will be built in Minden, it was decided this week. A delegation from the building committee met with Department of Welfare Minister, L. Gellie in Toronto this week and were successful in obtaining official approval for the building site, subject to soil content tests being satisfactory.

The Department of Welfare approved of either of two Minden sites only from those submitted throughout Haliburton County for the Minister's consideration. One of these sites is on the Gulf River on Orde Street and the other is situated on the open land near the bypass, south of the Minden Bypass, south of the Minden Bypass.

The Daily Post is advised by the Senior Citizens' Home Committee that the next step is to work closely with the architects and the Department of Welfare in the preparation of plans.

Plans are to be drawn up immediately for the $400,000 building and it is expected work will commence this spring.

Unfinished sewer provokes County Council discussion
The county home abandoned sewer line was discussed at the county council Tuesday.

Reeve Roy C. Morrison (Morden) asked County Clerk Weldon what was being done about the installation and if it was operating properly.

"As far as I know, it is a stalemate between the board of health, the county, and the contractor's solicitors," said Mr. Weldon.

"Apparently the contractor did not finish the job for some reason, and now they are all sprawling with each other and as far as I know nothing has been done to date."

The new sewer was built to handle any future expansion in the area, if and when any addition is made to the present house said County Clerk Frank Weldon.

Robarts rejects demands for liquor inquiry

Toronto, March 11 (UPI) - Ontario Premier John Robarts has rejected demands for a Royal Commission inquiry into the political campaign financing of the party of the day.

Robarts yesterday asked for an immediate inquiry into all aspects of the financing of the party of the day in the last provincial election. Bryden charged that to recent permission for distillers to increase liquor prices was a "payoff" for favors given the conservative government during the election.

Robarts told the House he rejected the remarks as a direct actuation of dishonesty against his government. He said distillers since Canada increased their prices and emphasized he took full responsibility for the part of the increase that was taxed. Robarts said Ontario needed money for various reasons including education and this seemed to hurt the taxpayer least.

Robarts told the Democratic Party opposition "and as far as a Royal Commission goes, you fellows are the people in the way to want one because you never believe what they tell you."

Quote Henry Cabot Lodge
"Great honor - great compliment"

Saigon, South Viet Nam (UPI) - U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge today called the new Hampshire victory a "great honor" and a "great compliment" to the United States.

Lodge was told of the latest election results at Saigon after he returned from a visit to the Vietnamese city of Hue - near the Vietnamese border - to meet with U.S. Secretary Robert McNamara. Informal sources said he had been very much pleased while in flight. But he said McNamara gave him the first word that Governor Nelson Rockefeller of New York and Senator Barry Goldwater had conceded in the face of Lodge's massive write vote.

No details of the weight of the baby were given, and his name is not expected to be made known for some time after the birth.

Queen Elizabeth and her new-born third son are "both well" by her husband Prince Philip, who is in Athens to attend the funeral of King Paul the First. The funeral cake, Philip says, was his fourth child was even 24 years old.

Drury's announce expansion program
Lindsay's Food Market Ltd., of Lindsay, has announced an expansion program for its William Street S. retail store.

According to the announcement, the enlargement of the market will bring it up to almost 5,000 square feet of sales area, over double the present size. Recreation is now under way and Drury's says expectations are to have the new market in operation in the very near future.

Council Quickies

Lindsay's Council agreed to a Council Dr. Peter Gilly's suggestion that letters of thanks be sent to the Fenelon, Ontario and Little Britain Fire Departments, for their help at last week's fire and also to the Cottage Restaurant and the Salvation Army who provided food and coffee for the firemen.

"The pumping station is using more hydro than it should," stated Mayor Holton. "They are using double what was estimated", replied Board of Works Chairman Reeve R. I. Moore, who said he was looking into the matter.

Reasonable Police (Ontario) Limited has given permission to Council to install a light on their property to improve the lighting between the Rainbow Bridge and Logie Street. Rainbow Bridge is at present undergoing extensive repairs.

Welfare chairman John Ekins reported on the February Welfare statement. He said total expenses were $5,024.42 of which the provincial share was $3,727.56 and the municipal share $1,296.86. Recipients totalled 34 heads of families and 111 dependents and 26 single claimants. This totalled 171 against 176 the same month last year.

Fire Committee Chairman Dr. Gill told members the committee recommended the additional areas of coverage requested by Fenelon Township. Council agreed to this recommendation.

Police chairman Carl Brown suggested the police should be provided with their own photographic equipment, he said they had qualified personnel at the station. He gave this reply after being questioned by Reeve R. I. Moore on the amounts paid for photographic work in connection with an accident and the fire injury at the old people's home, for inquest purposes.

Council learned the police used 1,100 gallons of gasoline last year in the cruiser, motor cycle and parking truck, or just under 400 gallons per month at a cost of about $1600. When the town subsidised bus service provided by DeNure was discussed later, Reeve R. I. Moore observed, "He doesn't use as much gasoline as the town police".

Council was informed the DeNure bus service had lost $1397 last year and were asked for the remaining $900 grant allowed under town by-law. "The cost of the bus service is up and the revenue is down," said Reeve R. I. Moore. "It's good service", said Councilor Taylor. "And Mr. DeNure keeps his equipment in good shape. He hoped for more revenue this year but it didn't show up".

Parking meter revenue for February 1964 was $1780.40 against $1578.59 in February 1963, an increase of $201.81. The tag revenue for February 1964 was $510.78 against $378.66, a gain of $132.09, reported Police Chairman Carl Brown, who added the committee was awaiting better weather before work would recommence on the Superstol lot.

Council it is probed further into the cost of outright purchase of new lights against financing lights over a 20-year debenture. Lighting Chairman Les Nail was instructed to obtain the necessary comparative figures and bring them to Council. "If we cannot afford to pay for all the lighting programme this year, perhaps we can pay on 5-year debentures instead of over 20 years", suggested Councillor Russell Taylor.

Cannington (PNS) - Cannington Bantams were eliminated from play off competition by a strong Bradford team in best two out of three game series.

The first game played at Heaven was an exciting one. At the end of the second period it seemed all over for Cannington, for the score stood at 6-0. In the third period however it was all Cannington and they scored four goals while keeping Bradford scoreless. In fact the tying goal was air as the ball rebounded to the net a second later.

In the second game Cannington held their own for a period and a half but the large ice hockey players legs caught up with Cannington and they were defeated by a score of 2-0.

The Migdets continue on a winning streak defeating St. Johns Training School in a home and home series by a score of 1-0. In the first game held in the Sunderland Arena Cannington defeated St. John's by a score of 1-0. The tables were turned however when St. John's defeated Cannington by a score of 5-1 in the bridge. ## Cleveland holds onto 9-7 victory over Los Angeles (United Press International) - The Cleveland Indians, led by the slugging of veteran Wally Post, held on for a 9-7 victory over the Los Angeles Angels in an exhibition game at Veterans.

Post slugged a three-run homer off Los Angeles in the first inning and then knocked in his fourth R-R-I of the day with a sacrifice fly in the fourth inning. The Indians outlasted Post last night as a free agent after he was released by the Cincinnati Reds.

In Tuesday's only other exhibition game at the ball park, the San Francisco Giants won their fourth in a row with a 6-1 triumph over the Boston Red Sox at Phoenix. The victory was achieved behind none other than the pitcher who caught up with Cannington and they were defeated by a score of 2-0.

Manager Casey Stengel has named Tracy Stallard and Jack Pither as his pickers for the New York Mets' first exhibition game Saturday — against the St. Louis Cardinals. Stallard is slated to work his first four innings, and Pither the last five. But, in cases they run into trouble, Stengel has named Larry Janzani and Hoyle Rogers as his relief men. The Mets also learned that catcher Clarence "Choo Choo" Metten — who broke his left thumb Monday — will be out for four weeks.

Rookie first baseman John Herrstine rapped out three hits in three innings, homer off southpaw Chris short in the Philadelphia Phillies intra-squad game of the spring. Herrstine's blast over the right field wall came with his club trailing, 4-2 and his teammates behind for a 6-4 win.

Milwaukee's fondle Bill Robinson drove in five runs with a grand slam homer and two doubles to lead the Dodgers to a 12-7 victory over the Braves. The slugger has both teams combine for a total of 31 hits.

Bible Society appeal

Church's job to point world to Jesus Christ - preacher

Rev. Bernard Mohan, representing the Bible Society in Newfoundland, was guest preacher at St. Paul's Anglican church on Sunday. In the course of his message he said in part: "The Church's job is to point the world to Jesus Christ. It is the job of every churchman to give this type of witness to Christ."

"The Bible," said the speaker, "is the authentic record of the Lord. The Church cannot do without this book, but it is the church doing with this book. To be ignorant of the scriptures is to be ignorant of Jesus Christ."

"We should take this book to the ends of the world, and people of the world should be given the Bible so that they may become witnesses for Christ."

"There are the people who do not read the Bible and this number is increasing from day to day. Many, many people never open the Bible. Every Christian and every theologian is convinced that the focus, the revelation, points to Christ. If we get away from the Bible, our faith goes to pieces," he said.

Rev. Mohan told the congregation that the Bible Society has issued the Bible in 192 languages. The Eskimos had the Bible for over 150 years.

Tax arrears interest rate hike in prospect for Lindsay

Mayor alleges a few are using town money to finance business affairs

It may soon cost you more in interest charges on arrears of town taxes, Lindsay Council decided Monday night. At present 6% interest is charged on overdue payments and the finance committee is to consider increasing this interest rate to 7%.

"A few people are using town money to finance business affairs," alleged Mayor Joseph Holton, "they are not paying their taxes on time — Perhaps we should revise the interest charges." He said such a move had been considered in the past but not put into effect because he felt the "little people" were having a hard job with present taxes and this might constitute an additional hardship.

"At one time," said the mayor, "we could have compelled

Manager says:

Will up employees 10 per cent

Construction has started on $100,000 expansion to the American Brakehook division of the Dominion Brake Shoe Company in Lindsay, Works Manager G. D. Connolly has announced company plans to add 13,440 square feet to its plant on Colbourne Street East in Lindsay. The expansion will bring total floor space to 70,000 square feet. The contract was let on March 4th to M. Sule Construction Ltd., of Lindsay and work should be completed by June 30th.

The expansion will increase the work force of the company by about 10%, said Mr. Connolly. He also said these would be male employees as company policy was to hire men rather than women. This is to provide work for breadwinners, said Mr. Connolly.

American Brakehook manufactures automotive and industrial brake lining for sale to original equipment and service accounts and jobbing distributors across Canada.

A large export business is also carried on with South Africa, Australia, Saudi Arabia, Iran, New Zealand and other countries.

The new expansion will allow the company to meet new demands and to take on additional business.

Industrial Commissioner S. Pitts said Mr. Connolly has recently been appointed to the Lindsay Industrial Commission and added, "He is certainly practising what he preaches."

"Such an expansion is a great thing for Lindsay," said Mr. Pitts. "It is just as important to the town to have local industry expanding as it is to secure new industry — its all gain. No outlay is required of the town for putting in services. It is an important factor too for our sales approach to other manufacturers."

Mr. Connolly, Works Manager of the plant, who was the first Canadian employed by the new plant in February 1947, said the company is now completely staffed by Canadians, a great majority of them being local people. He pointed out that the Brakehook has ten plants in Canada making different products, five of them Ontario. The largest of the brakehook plants is at Joliet, Quebec, which is the largest independent plant in the British Commonwealth.

Mr. Connolly took news reporters to the plant and explained the process the brake shoes went through. He said the plant can produce up to 300,000 shoes a month and 12% to 15% of the output was exported.

As a source approved by the Department of Transport and the U.S. Federal Aviation Agency, American Brakehook also manufactures and sells aircraft brake linings to air lines in Canada and the United States. The company is one of the largest independent brake shoe binders in Canada, and its new facility will be used

Council agrees to proposed lease with Airport Servicing Company

Lindsay's council has agreed to a proposed lease with the Airport Servicing Company, builders of the service station at the Lindsay airport, after some discussion Monday evening. They agreed to lease the highway property — 350 feet long by 200 feet deep — for a 30-year term at an annual rental of $250, plus half a cent on each gallon of gas after a stipulated gallonage is reached. The council further agreed not to support any other airport facilities which might be built within a 25-mile radius of the town, with the possible exception of water landings.

"What does this mean George?" asked a councillor during the discussion on the legal agreement.

Deputy Reeve George Finney enquired between lawyers Moore and Logan, replied: "I don't know, it's a legal matter. ## A WARM WELCOME....

The last show audience attending the Lindsey Academy Theatre presentation of the fast-moving satire — "Spring Thaw" — gave the cast a warm welcome, perhaps one of the warmest it has received so far in its current tour. The sustained applause which followed the show clearly indicated that this type of "theatre" had a special appeal for those who enjoy stage productions. It indicated also that there is still a very real place in the world of show business for the legitimate theatre, especially performances which blend the theatre with current events. . . . And "Spring Thaw" did that in a way which regaled the audience and gave them an opportunity to let off some well directed steam at the ridiculous and farcical nature of some of our serious problems when exposed to wholesome satirical light.

The final applause by the audience indicated the cast—they, in turn, began appreciating the audience. . . . Clearly a case of two-way appreciation. The happy experience no doubt provided added stimulus to those supporters of the "Save the Academy" movement and should help to revive and sustain their enthusiasm. "Spring Thaw" was a welcome change from the tedium of winter freeze-up.

WHY DIDN'T HE SPEAK UP BEFORE?

One of the questions people are asking in this area today centres around the criticism levelled by a Peterboro minister over the holding of the International Snowmobile Competitions at Lakehead Park on Sunday. The question asked is: "Why didn't he speak up before—protest the planned schedule of the event before it took place?" There are, of course, several possible answers to this. . . . Maybe he didn't have time, for one thing. Perhaps he didn't wish to inflict any hardship on the sponsors. . . .

In any event, there is one thing about his protest and request for an investigation, which puzzles us. Since he bases his complaint, (repeatedly, in any event), on the grounds that the races shouldn't have been held on Sunday morning, we would be interested in seeing his program. . . . Ours didn't call for any feature events to be run until well after lunch. Could we have misread it?

Another question being asked in the wake of the protest is: "Would church attendance have been greatly affected if nothing whatsoever had been in progress at the site on the Sunday in question. . . . Would a snowmobile competition stop a person from being present at his church if he had a real desire to be there?"

Reports and Remarks...

HEARING AID MYTHS

This article appeared recently in a prominent journal, The Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Monthly. It is authored by Dr. Otto Menzel, a nationally recognized authority on speech and hearing. The article contains straight forward answers to many common hearing aid misconceptions.

The hard of hearing public is subjected to a great deal of advice, much of it unqualified, regarding the selection and use of hearing aids. The advice may be physicians, hearing aid dealers, audiologists, or last, but by no means least, well-meaning friends and relatives.

Most of this advice is sincere; some of it is based on ulterior motives, a great deal is erroneous. Some of the more common misconceptions are catalogued in the ensuing paragraphs.

1. "Hearing aid use will prevent further progression of the hearing loss." This contents is a favorite among hearing aid salesmen who have found that a forecast of rapid deterioration of residual hearing that can be prevented only by hearing aid use is a potent selling point.

Nonsense to say, there is no evidence that a hearing aid can in any way contribute to the arrest of a progressive hearing impairment, nor is any salesman qualified to predict future changes in a prospect's hearing.

2. "The use of a hearing aid will destroy the hearing that remains." This is the opposite of the preceding fallacy and is no less fallacious. To date, no proof has been presented that an aid is capable of aggravating an auditory deficiency.

3. "If you wear a hearing aid, you will become overly dependent on it." This statement is usually used in an ominous tone, implying that this would be the worst possible fate. Actually, the extent to which a person becomes dependent on his hearing aid is one of the best indications of how much he benefits from it. Dependency is directly proportional to need, and to the success in fulfilling that need. Hence, the greatest dependency on a hearing aid evidences both a strong need for that aid and maximal benefit from its use.

4. "Hearing aids are beneficial only to persons with conductive hearing losses." This misconception is surprisingly common among ENT practitioners. Although it is true that conductively deafened individuals typically wear hearing aids with greater success than others, patients with sensory-neural impairments after derive great benefit from hearing aid use, also. —The Hearing Eye

WITHOUT A STITCH

A sewing machine without needle or thread has been developed at the Omega Laboratories in London.

Interviewed in the BBC General Overseas Service programme "Science and Industry," the managing director of the laboratories, Mr. L.J. Swift, explained the principle on which it bonds materials together using a tuned probe, sputter and wheel. The probe is turned at an ultrasonic frequency of 30,000 cycles a second, and the tip moving at this frequency delivers intense energy to the surface of the material, raising it to its precipitation point. At this stage the various molecules or fibres are hammered together as the material passes between the sputter and wheel.

Mr. Swift pointed out that this was a principle of diffusion, rather than pure fusion. "Normally, if a thermo-plastic material were taken to its melting-point temperature, then obviously the material would tend to fuse together. But if you raise a molecular structure to the cold-flow point or precipitation temperature, and then hammer it at a very high intensity, this will result in the molecules which are free to move, in fact moving together and intermingling in a diffusion. Similarly, if you have a molecular structure in a thermo-plastic material and a cotton material with an ordinary fibre, the molecules will tend to diffuse and intermingle with the fibres, thus causing the bond."

The bond, he said, was normally as strong as the parent material, and certainly as strong as a normal stitched seam. They had used it to knit knitted fabrics together—cotton to cotton, linen to linen and so on. But cotton could be bonded to nylon; they had successfully bonded some papers, and most plastics bonded perfectly well. —BBC London Letter

THE PRICE OF EGGS

A commentator on things financial in the United States has surprised many of his admiring readers by the manner in which he opposes devaluation of the U.S. dollar.

Among other things he notes that holders of insurance policies should view with alarm an action that would reduce the real value of those policies. This has been going on for a long, long time. Policy buyers and insurers are probably conditioned to the fact that cashing in on the policies at some time in the future will show that they aren't getting nearly as much as they thought they were getting. The insurance salesman who is aware of the declining value of money has a cure for it in his advice to the customers that they increase their purchases of insurance by the estimated amount of the decline in real value.

With due respect, the writer would say that it can be demonstrated that: historically this process of milking the savers has been going on for thousands of years.

Shakespeare noted in King Lear that kings with impunity could clip the coins. Fixed-income securities also can be clipped in that sense. The modern clippers don't even wear crowns. They just fail to balance budgets. There are, of course, other gimmicks. One such is the apparent determination of all labour union leaders to increase the wage cost of goods with every renewal of a contract. This has quite a lot to do with the price of eggs.

Through the first two periods the little goals. Clarke scored from Worsley at 3:07, and Doug Kingsbury put Lindsay back in the game at 15:14 unassisted. This raised the Lindsay hopes when in general to be full but try as they did they could muster the tying goal.

In the final stanza local fans still cannot understand how the Trentonites made their lead stand up for the win. Only the cold headed play of the visitors made it possible as they went about their work methodically with a victor's glint in their eye.

The sharp accurate passing of the Trenton team pretty much spelled out their win. While Guffer's guys lacked the definite moves they are capable of. Trenton took a two goal lead in the first period with Ferguson scoring at 8:08 and Rogers adding at 11:47. Lindsay got one back at 15:13, but Mike Clarke scored the first of his three goals.

Canadian Winter Helps The Search

Drilling For Gold

When the hard-frozen of winter comes to the land, many mineral explorers across Canada take advantage of good travelling surfaces to increase the tempo of their search. Following the prospectors are others who also use sub-zero temperatures as a practical friend. In the Malartic-Val d'Or region of western Quebec, 100 miles north of Lake Ontario, nearly a dozen diamond-drill rigs have been searching for gold from the frozen surface of Lake de Montigny. On the flat ice surface the drill rigs are easily erected. With no need for boats and barges the drilling of many thousands of feet of rock core becomes economical and exact. Careful studies of the drill samples have now established the presence of 5,000,000 tons of gold-bearing ore averaging nearly two ounces of the precious (7-dollars-an-ounce) metal per ton. Backed by the knowledge gained from the drill holes, a main shaft is being sunk 1,150 feet, a new gold mine, scheduled to go into production next year, has been born—ready to help Canada maintain number three position (after South Africa and Russia) among the gold-producing countries of the world.

Geologist in charge, Glen Rushton, scrutinizes diamond-drill core samples brought to the surface.

Exploratory drill rigs rise up on the frozen surface of Lake de Montigny point across the lake are examined to plot the depth and extent of gold-bearing orebody. Mine shaft is then sunk at most favourable point.

Drillers put their backs into task of raising drill towers and flumes upon the level surface of frozen lake. Reg Toys wears nose frostbite protector as he checks local magnetic field with portable magnetometer.

Beware of snoop "tax men" Canadian taxpayers warned

Ottawa—(UPI)—Minister John Gairland warned Canadian taxpayers today to be aware of snoop information-seekers posing as tax men.

Gairland said it has been brought to his attention that certain individuals are deliberately misrepresenting themselves to taxpayers.

These men pose as Federal Income Tax inspectors, the minister said, and obtain confidential information and records to which they are not entitled.

Gairland said the snoopers "may use this information for the purpose of promoting private business."

Officials within the department said the information might be used for such nefarious purposes such as blackmail and for gaining the inside track on investments.

The minister said the imposters are associated with "various commercial organizations."

Gairland said his tax clerks have been aware of the unethical practice of collecting highly confidential information for some time "but have been unsuccessful in their efforts to put an end to them."

NOTICED

Along the way
The "Spring Hawk" who came to Lindsay Friday night was one with a pleasant, out-going personality.

It is, however, an other person's "Spring Hawk" who has the appearance of a hawk who might be attended by so many "Nature" version.

It's imminent approach has prompted a long-time contributor to this paper to print the following lines:

"Spring Hawk" . . . This title has been heard in and around Lindsay quite frequently by many.

"Spring Hawk" reminded many citizens who are concerned in the world of nature, regarding the hazards which exist at this time of the year, that it was time they got tough. Adults are urged to be observant when they see youngsters playing near open ditches when the real "Spring Hawk" is on. It brings in its train swelled streams, creeks and rivers. The Sauge River is no exception and Lindsay people observing children playing near the river when it is in flood are urged to caution them to play elsewhere and if they do not heed, see that they are taken home. The Sauge River occasionally lures unwary youngsters to its bottom, thus saddening those dear to them and making others who love children regret the loss of the world of youthful minds and bodies.

After the reading of the correspondence and business letters by the President, Mrs. Rose Downey, a short synopsis of a general meeting held in Peterboro in January was given by the Secretary Mrs. Ethel Henley.

A spelling match was held and this proved very interesting to both parents and teachers. It was open to all pupils of the district in Grades five, six, seven and eight. There was a good number of winners.

Small prizes were given out to everyone who entered the contest and the winners of each class received a money prize. The winners were Grade five, Don, Murphy, O'Neill, Verone, Perdue, Grade six, Vernon, Perdue, Grade seven, Vernon, Perdue, Grade eight, Vernon, Perdue.

Report from Ottawa

by Russell C. Honey

Since the 1962 election which returned a minority Conservative administration there has been a marked trend in both major parties towards a more prominent role for backbenchers in the determination of party policy.

The minority government led by Mr. Diefenbaker after the 1962 election and the present minority Liberal administration have found the position of the cabinet to be weak in relation to the party caucus than would have been the case if either party had enjoyed majority position.

The word "caucus" has been imported from American usage, probably of Algonquian origin, and is used as both a noun and a verb. The elected members of a political party and the members of that party together form the caucus.

A meeting of such a group is described as caucusing. Meetings of caucus afford an opportunity for each member, no matter how junior, to have his say on any subject. Precedence at caucus are secret and all political parties consider it an unpardonable offence for any member to reveal the proceedings of caucus.

The Liberal party has taken the lead in formally acknowledging the new weight to be given to the opinions of backbenchers. This has been demonstrated by the recognition of the structure of the Liberal caucus in the past two years.

This reorganization has provided means whereby all members of the caucus can be assured that the opinions expressed at caucus are communicated to the cabinet minister concerned.

Immediately prior to each of the last two sessions of Parliament the Liberal caucus was met in full session for two days to consider matters of government policy and prospective legislation. The Prime Minister and all cabinet ministers have acknowledged the valuable assistance to the government from a full and free exchange of opinion between private members and ministers.

The Conservative caucus has not exhibited the same degree of reorganization, but the weight of opinion of their backbenchers is acknowledged to be growing. An ample demonstration of this is the recent visit of the Hon. Lester B. Pearson to the Hon. Lester B. Pearson.

Lions wrestling for the crown in bout with Tigers here tonite

Lindsay Lions will be going all out in an attempt to wrestle the Central Ontario Junior "C" Championship from the Aurora Tigers when they meet at the Kivana Arena tonight at eight-thirty. So far in their best of seven final series the Lions have won three of the four games played and tied the fourth but the series is not over yet. Last year the Tigers were well down in the final series but roared back to take the title against Orangeville.

The Lions will still be playing without the valuable services of their star defence man Wayne MacLeish. Wayne was released from hospital Wednesday afternoon but medical advisers urge him not to play any more this season. Thus the remaining three-man defence has done a terrific job filling the gap left by Wayne but his presence in the line-up would have eased the pressure on many occasions.

The Lions, since they decided to stick to the schedule to Junior competition last fall have played 26 scheduled games and seven playoff titles. They have won 21, lost five and tied one to date which is an enviable record for a team to young. It is a 16-man team in the tournament sense, as all the players on the team except the goalies have scored goals with even high scoring games being shared by almost as many players as goals. Their main defence has been a fast-skating, close-checking offence. Unassisted goals scored by the Lions have for the most part been scored on intercepted passes or a sweep check in enemy territory and not the work of a puck-bog.

The Aurora Tigers are a big fast team that can skate and shoot with the best of them and give a third line with equal calibre of their present two lines, would do well in Junior "B" competition. Roy Pugh has been their top scorer with Gord Burbridge, Terry Stone and Pat Finnagan turning in a predictable effort. Their advantage in size however is somewhat offset by their lack of depth. In close contests coach Hansard depends on 12 of his Tigers to carry the load, and playing every other shift does not give them the rest the Lions enjoy with three well balanced lines. The Lions want to win tonight, they want to win every game, they all come to every game and they all come to play with the solid support they have received they always go all out and that they will have to do tonight. Game time is eight-thirty p.m.

Retired Station Master Recalls Curling Days

John McLeod of Cobocook, who is at present a patient in the Rosam Memorial Hospital, is a currier of former years and his memory is quite retentive. Although he retired as the C.N.R. agent at Cobocook after 33 years' service, he likes to recall the days when he was a resident of Beaverton, where he was station master and a currier. These were the days when Beaverton boasted of a number of expert curlers including Peter and Duncan McMillan. The McMillans learned the game from the late dean of curlers, J. D. Finville of Lindsay, who in their prime, were instrumental in organizing the Beaverton Club. "The McMillans, who in their prime were among the cratiest and most foot-footed in the game of lacrosse took to curling like ducks to water and as time went on were able to match the game of the great Finville. "They were typical Scotsmen and when it came to sports they were quite canny," said John McLeod. "However, they were real sportsmen on and off the ice."

Mr. John McLeod also recalled such known Beaverton curlers as Roche, Martin and Richard. Many a game was played on Cannington ice in the days when Bill Livingstone, Dixon Jewett, Tom Wilson, D. McLeod, and the Howards were among the best in Cannington. "These were good days," said the currier and if you played a good game with the granite rocks you were in solid with the townpeople."

Absent-minded professor runs afield of the law

Manchester, England, (UPI)—University lecturer William H. Scott told a court in Manchester, England, today he was a cautious academician. But the judge decided Scott was more of an absent-minded professor.

The 40-year-old Scott was fined 70 dollars for driving the wrong way along four miles of a heavily built-up expressway. The Policeman George Payne testified Scott told him when he was arrested "I think there was something wrong because I thought I had to keep swimming to avoid me. Payne said several cars on the expressway had to swerve violently to miss Scott's automobile.

"It is said that academics are cautious and normally I am very cautious", Scott told the judge.

"I think this is an aberration. I placed complete faith in the directions I got from other motorists and that led me into this stupid error."

Garnet Corley spoke of Lindsay at the turn of the century and said in the years before the war there were a couple of steam cars in Lindsay and three or four other automobiles. The first gasoline car I remember, he said, was owned by a Mr. White. "My first car was a 1908 Buick," said Corley, "and I wish I had it now." "Time flies," he added, "I was talking to Frank Speer the barber, a few days ago and he told me he had been in the same block for 40 years and that I was just about his first customer there."

Machines foil tobacco law, chief hints

Following complaints from parents, Lindsay police today distributed Mini Protection Act forms to all tobacco outlets and pool rooms in the area. It is an offence, said Chief J. Hunter, to sell or supply tobacco to anyone under 18. "How we are going to enforce this on a machine that can be told the person's age, I have not figured out yet," he remarked, "or for anyone under 18 to be allowed in a pool room."

A letter from the chief accompanying the form states that his department was instructed to deliver the forms following the complaints and the law will be enforced should any incident of such offence come to his attention.

Lindsay woman attends course
on paint use

Mrs. O. Allan of the staff of Booth's Paint & Wallpaper, 79 Kent Street, of Lindsay, Ontario, attended the Product Training School held at the Toronto plant of Benjamin Moore & Co. Limited, paint manufacturers.

The course is one of instruction in the proper use of paints, enamels, varnishes and stains.

Windsor (UPI)—A Windsor man began a 10-day jail sentence today after being convicted of beating his wife with a belt.

Before he walked off to his jail cell the convicted man caused a stir in the courtroom when he asked if he could speak to his wife, who had just testified about the beating.

He walked over to his wife, spoke to her for a moment, then kissed her before walking off to his confinement.

"UNACCEPTABLE"

An official Cyprus government spokesman has termed "unacceptable" Turkey's warning that it will invade Cyprus unless fighting ends. A Greek Cypriot radio broadcast also said the government has told its U.N. representative to request a special meeting of the Security Council following what was called the Turkish "threat of aggression." These moves came as sporadic fighting broke out in and around the capital of Nicosia.

DEBATE CONTINUES

Debate continues in the Commons today on redistributing federal electoral ridings. At present the less populous rural ridings outnumber the more densely populated urban ridings. Redistribution on a more even basis would take seats from the rural areas and hand them to the cities. Under the planned redistribution some rural ridings will probably be wiped out completely by neighboring constituencies to bring population figures closer to those of city and suburban constituencies. Some members of the Commons, particularly those from the west, are asking for a greater tolerance so their membership in parliament will not be reduced. On the other hand, urban members argue that some of their ridings—Toronto's York-Scarborough with a population of 267-thousand is an extreme example—be divided up so they will have more members to serve the larger metropolitan areas.

DOESN'T THINK HE WAS GUILTY

A Quebec Provincial Police Sergeant told a royal commission last night in Quebec City that he does not think a man hanged for murder was guilty. However, Sergeant Henri Doyon told the commission that it was possible that Wilbert Coffin had something to do with the 1963 killing of three American tourists. Montreal author Jacques Hebert has charged that Coffin was railroaded to the gallows to appease American opinion.

RETURNS FROM INSPECTION

U.S. Defense Secretary McNamara has returned from a five-day inspection of the Vietnamese war, saying it can be won "if the proper effort is made." McNamara arrived at Andrews Air Force Base this morning and told waiting newsmen that every responsible official in South Viet Nam agrees that Communists used "Chieu Hoa" guerrillas can be defeated. But McNamara cautioned "there is no magic formula." The Defense Chief spoke with President Johnson to go over his findings.

SPECULATION

There is speculation in Berlin that the three American airmen downed over East Germany Tuesday may be tried as spies. Communist newsmen commented this morning that it would be "natural" for the Soviets to let East Germany try the fliers. The United States still is pressing the Communists for the return of the crewmen and their wrecked plane—but with no luck.

Ontario grows practically all. Seed potato certification was Canada's winter wheat, grown to 34 varieties of potato, 15,795,000 bushels in tons in 1963. Sebago and Kennebec leading in acreage.

One hate box still operating, link Nazi sympathiser's name

Toronto (UPI) — At least one Toronto post office box is still operating as an address for anti-Jewish and anti-Negro hate literature.

Postmaster-General J. B. Nicholson announced in the Commons Wednesday that Scarborough number had been closed down, but a post office spokesman said last night that neither box is still being used for the same purpose.

Nicholson, in his Commons statement, did not identify the Scarborough boxholder, but other sources indicated it was 19-year-old David Stanley, a Nazi sympathizer, and apparently the main organizer in a campaign to distribute hate literature across Canada.

Stanley was sentenced to nine months in jail and fined $30-dollars after two court appearances last year in Birmingham, Alabama, on charges of assault resulting from anti-Negro demonstrations.

The sentences were suspended on the understanding Stanley would return to Canada. Meanwhile, a Toronto lawyer has warned about the dangers of placing a ban on hate literature. Gino Hew, speaking on a television commentary program, said such a ban would threaten Canada's freedom of press and might do more harm than good.

Can't afford to work

Boston, England (UPI) — George Walden told a Boston, England court this week why he cannot afford to work.

He said he cannot meet his installment payments on his wages of $6 dollars-30 cents a week.

But his unemployment pay, national assistance and family allowance brings him 27 dollars 60 cents a week. And as long as he is unemployed, his installments are met through an insurance scheme.

Cry of protest?

Baby lets out a yelp prior to arrival

London (UPI) — A baby now six weeks old let out a piercing cry 24 hours before she was born according to a doctor writing in the British Medical Journal.

Dr. Kenneth Kay, the physician who delivered the baby, said he stood "dumbfounded" at the bedside of Mrs. Anne Warham, a former actress.

He was afraid that the baby had suffocated when she opened her mouth. Later, the baby last night at Waterloo Lutheran died.

But the next day little Millie Warham was born, weighing seven and one-half pounds and "crying lustily."

Any resentment against the French, he said, did not result from the actions of ordinary citizens, but was due to the actions and statements of the extremists.

Jeon Louis Gagnon, co-chairman of the Royal Commission on Biculturalism, told the symposium that the extremists in the wrong and had let each other down since Confederation.

Although they were not the best advertisement to the rest of Canada, they do reflect the parties must live up to, in our current feelings of French Canada to make it work, he said.

Other than since Confederation, the French have been the best advertisement to the rest of Canada, they do reflect the parties must live up to, in our current feelings of French Canada to make it work, he said.

STILL NOT SATISFIED

A survey of frozen food packages, and home-makers have few problems with the products but they're still not satisfied. They want more variety in the frozen foods in the store, packages don't show that partially in the freezer. They want insulated bags at the check-out counter and more careful handling so that pies aren't stood on edge and the ingredients of frozen prepared dinners jumbled.

The survey also shows that women want more "pastry and grocery" packages bagged so that they can extract just what they need for a meal, then safely re-seal the container and return it to the freezer.

The study was made by the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station in Wooster, Ohio. Its purpose is to adapt products to consumer uses and needs and to plant educational material to clear up any misunderstanding.

More than three-thirty-five home-makers participated in the survey. The women complained more than mentioned were forgetting to thaw meat, fish and poultry long enough before marketing it—and the inadequacy of home freezer space. Packaging was criticized for difficulty in opening, difficulty of removal of food from packages, and spills from fruit packed in metal containers.

CAKE TIPS

German leaves the rose, lemon, or other scented varieties—baked with cake mixtures. (Line cake pans with leaves.) No geranium plant? Use mint.

Peppermint and a white cake mix is a happy pair! Use crushed pink candy, peppered with white chocolate, as member peppermint cake, also as a chocolate (chocolate).

Butter Pastry Cake—light, moist, and richly spiced! For fresh-ground nutmeg, the ultimate in flavor, treat your self to white nutmeg and a grainer or grater.

Marshmallow cherries that while cake a pretty pink and add fruit flavor. Our cake also boasts a touch of almond, and treat—the flavor friend of all kinds of cherries.

Fanilla—optional of the most popular of all cake mixtures. (For a gourmet touch, tuck vanilla bean in sugar canister, great sweetener for cakes, custard, fruit.)

Coffee, the instant kind, gives angel cake new dimensions. (Start with cake mix.) Next time, sprinkle instant coffee over vanilla loaf cake—another good combo!

RELATIONS "JEOPARDIZED" — UNLESS AIRMEN RELEASED

(UPI) — The United States warned Russia this morning that future Soviet-American relations will be "jeopardized" unless three airmen are released immediately. The warning came in the latest in a series of protests the U.S. has made since today's shot down today. Today's air crash was not an espionage mission.

The American embassy in Moscow says the note pointed out that "Soviet authorities must be aware of the fact that U.S. air traffic controllers tried in every way possible" to keep the plane from crossing into East Germany.

U.S. officials believe the R-36 strayed across the Iron Curtain because of a failure in its navigational equipment. It was the second plane downed that year. An unarmed Jet trainer was shot down in January and all three crewmen were killed.

WHAT IS PREFABRICATION? Prefabrication is a modern manufacturing technique in which the various components of a building are factory produced. With the use of modern equipment and skilled labor, the materials for floor, wall, partition and roof sections can be machine cut and assembled by efficient production-line methods. The end product is a superior home, summer cottage or garage, made up of pre-engineered components of highest quality and workmanship.

HOW DOES C. P. A. BENEFIT YOU? Here are the guiding principles established by the Canadian Prefab Association for 10 member companies:

- (1) To abide by all government building codes and regulations.
- (2) To keep pace with the latest architectural advancements.
- (3) To maintain strictest quality control on all materials and workmanship.
- (4) To encourage constant research for engineering improvement.
- (5) To uphold their obligation to the customer.
- (6) To safeguard the public's interests at all times.

It will be to your best interest, when considering a Prefab home, summer cottage or garage, to inquire first from one of the companies displaying this membership symbol...

Historical Research topic of Cambray UCW programme

Cambray (PNS) — The Women's Institute held an evening meeting in the community hall with an attendance of 150. The meeting was opened by the president Mrs. M. McKay who welcomed all members. The Institute Ode was sung followed by the creed and The Lord's prayer in unison. Roll Call was answered by helpful hints for housecleaning. Minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary Mrs. Mary Montgomery. Those approved. Treasurer's report showed a balance of $525.43 with proceeds from the booth at the arena to date of old books, a bundle of old $213.00. Correspondence of newspapers or a collection of letters written long ago years ago was appreciated. It and out goes the old spinning wheel, the butter tray and ladle, brock jock or any other old fashioned article, long discarded and considered useless. With them goes a link with the past. "The best plan to follow is to have many books to list to them together with the authors, date of publication and the name of the publisher. Then send the list to the librarian of some university, the archivist of your province, a museum or a public library and ask them to check any books that would be acceptable to these institutions. Old newspapers are particularly valuable in reconstructing the economic, industrial, social and political life of a country. Many years ago Joseph Howe wrote a wise man preserves its records. Our country's records will be found in old books, letters, newspapers and the relics of bygone days. Let us look well before we are guilty of throwing these things away. We are forever dedicated to the past. It is the source of your very identity. History is essential to the thinking of a cultured person. It is a necessary ingredient of nature. Children of today take many things for granted. They do not marvel over automobiles, airplanes, radio, television, the telephone or electric light as compared with the candle of our grandmothers day. Many things seem to us very simple because someone ages ago or a half century ago was clever enough to think of it. As Canadian citizens we would do well to take a good look at our heritage. ## Keen and true ice for Minden curlers

Minden Curling Club are enjoying excellent curling on artificial ice after having some difficulty early in the season getting the new artificial ice machine to operate satisfactorily.

Eight women's and twelve men's teams are just completing their schedules and are starting the playoffs, competing for three different trophies. Playoffs are expected to be over about mid-April.

Bonslaide are being enjoyed by curlers from home and away and visiting curlers from Lindsay and Toronto have stated the ice at Minden compares favourably for trueness and leanness with several large Toronto clubs where they have curling.

The plant is run by the heaviest machinery in Haliburton County, and regardless of how mild the day, the ice is always in excellent condition. The Minden club members installed the system themselves.

Report Brock Twp. deer survived winter well

Sunderland (PNS) — Reports Mr. Gordon Innes, mail indicate deer in Sunderland Township survived the winter pretty well.

A couple of weeks ago township employees, cutting brush west of Hancock, Sand and Gravel on the third concession, number reports of deer being reported a herd of about 15 had crossed the road.

Mr. James MacNeil, section foreman at Blackwater, reports seeing eight deer in fine condition feeding the "2" at Blackwater yards when he arrived for work in the morning.

At there have been quite a number reports of deer being shot and also being caught and mutilated by dogs during the winter. It is nice to know that there are some good herds left as there are so many people who enjoy seeing a deer throw up his white flag and go jump away over the fence and through the woods.

Plans are being made to which everyone hopes will be held special Sunday services, a profitable one spiritually during this Centennial year, financially.

Mary Ada May Found wed in candlelight ceremony

Candlelight was the setting: finger veil was of nylon net for the marriage of Mary Ada caught up in a tarsi of seed May Found, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Pound of Cannington, to James Douglas Quackenbush, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Quackenbush, of RRS Lindsay, on March 6th, at 8:30 p.m. in Cannington, United Church.

Rev. C. R. Wragg officiated at the double ring ceremony and Mrs. Neil McPhaden presided at the organ. Mrs. Allan Barnes of Earl Grey, Saskatoon, sister of the bride, was soloist and sang "The Wedding Prayer" before the ceremony, and "Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in white, lace-trimmed gown, fashioned with fitted lace bodice over satin, and gathered skirt of chiffon over satin. Her

Bride-to-be Feted
Prior to her marriage, the bride was honored at four showers where she received many lovely useful gifts. These were held by classmates and school friends at the home of Mrs. Marilyn Morgan, Cannington, by suite and cousin at the home of Mrs. Cecil Cory, Lindsay; by Lindsay friends of the bride and groom at the home of Mrs. Alfred Henry; and by her Saginaw neighbours at the home of Mrs. Charles Campbell.

The United Church choir met at the home of Mrs. Viola Carter and presented the bride-to-be with a beautiful table lamp, and she was the recipient of a piece of stainless steel and copper kitchenware from fellow employees of Schultz Die Casting where she and the groom are both employed.

$300 damage in storm crash
At least one unlucky Coboc driver was unable to escape the fury of last night's storm, reports Const. J. Des Laurier of the OPP.
He said a car driven by Sheila McKague left the road around 6 p.m. on Highway 95 south south of Rosedale striking a tree.
The constable estimated damage at about $300, and the driver received minor cuts about the knee.

Club president donates trophy
About sixty members of the staff of the Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay participated in a curling bonspiel which was at the Fenelon Falls curling rink last Saturday.
A rink skipped by Mrs. Ethel Wood won first prize and a trophy donated by Gerald Palmer, president of the Fenelon Falls Curling Club, was presented to that rink. Roger Wood skipped the second place rink and the third place rink was skipped by Mrs. Kay Harding. The fourth and fifth place rinks were skipped by Dr. W. Graham and Dr. G. Lindsay respectively.

Play commenced about 1 p.m. and following two games supper was served and entertainment followed. An enjoyable time was had by all present.

Little Britain ties series

Little Britain edged Oakwood Flyers 7-5 in the second game for the Graham Cup in Oakwood last night. Ice conditions were excellent and it was a fast moving game.

Playing coach opened the scoring for Oakwood as he stole the puck and scored unassisted at 4:20. G. Margint tied it up for Little Britain at 9:40 and the period ended in a 3-1 tie. G. Margint was tagged as the only penalty. Ray Jenkins banged one in the net for 4 seconds at 1:45 of the second period, only to have Horton tie it up again at 5:50.

Bill Clarkson picked the top corner for a beautiful shot but once again Cornell scored for Britain to tie the score at 3-3. Oakwood continued to play and outshot Britain by a big margin and finally at 10:35 Horton did the trick under Wamamaker on a break-away to end the period at 4-3 for Oakwood. Each team picked up one penalty each.

At the 10 second mark of the third period Ray Jenkins tied it up. The Thompson boys scored 2 fast ones at the 5 minute mark Britain looked home free leading 6-4. Ron Jewell raised the hopes of Oakwood fans as he put the Flyers within one on a perfect break handler. Oakwood pressed for the remainder of the period but either missed on many good chances, or were fouled by goalie Wamamaker who turned in a solid performance.

Finally Britain's captain Alvin Drinkwater scored on a screened shot from the blue line at 14:55. This seemed to be the insurance marker for Britain and the score remained 7-5. The rugged third period produced 7 penalties.

As the sea-seeing scoring indicates these teams are well balanced. The teams meet again in Little Britain on Thursday night and at Oakwood on Saturday night.

That's how many times we inspect a Volkswagen.

There are some of the car's on little car has to get in our factory.
It's only to let the car's from the no's. One we is off you ever read.
We pay $897 was just to look for ship to go to. And no to no.
A visitor from Brazil once asked us what we were going to do about a roof that come through with a dent in it. Dents are easy to hammer out. So what we did shoot him a little. We involved the body down to a metal lump and threw it out in his scrap pile.

We stop VW's for little things that you may never notice yourself.

The fit of the fitting is the roof. The finish in the door. In the final inspection done, our VW has to get through 342 points without one blemish.
One out of 200 doesn't do it. But you should see the ones that get away.

"Lions never looked sharper" - Bodnar

"The Lions never looked sharper" was the opinion expressed by Coach Gus Bodnar after an hour long workout at the Kiwanis Arena last night. Both Gus Bodnar and Rags Raglan were on hand as they ran their Lions through a brisk workout. An even score of the Lions attended at the sudden wintry blast prevented the northern contingent from attending. Most pleasant surprise of all was to see Wayne McLeish back in harness after a three week layoff due to an injury suffered in the last game with Newmarket. Two weeks in hospital of his foot took its toll in condition but Wayne plans extra skating and conditioning workouts to get back in condition in hopes of rejoining the team as soon as possible. Extra protective equipment will be worn by the sharp-shooting defencemen as a precaution against further injury.

The Lions will now have a four-day rest period before they start final tune-ups for the next round in the provincial play-downs. Some of the last play on playing spectators on Friday and Saturday night as the Lindsay Gyro Skating Club presents its tenth annual Ice Review. Another full house for this skating extravaganza is expected and tickets are available at Selkirk's Men's Wear, Morley Graven Electric, Scott's Paint and Wallpaper and Gallant's Lunch.

Hall's performance may win Vezina Trophy, League title

Goalie Glen Hall may have won the Vezina Trophy for himself and the National Hockey League title for the Chicago Black Hawks with a single brilliant performance. Hall turned in his seventh shutout of the N.H.L. season

Tuesday night when he blanked the New York Rangers, 4-0. The victory gave the Black Hawks a two-point first-place lead over the Montreal Canadiens and left Hall with 106 goals against with one game left to play. The Canadiens have three games left in which to overtake the Black Hawks while Montreal's Charlie Godeau goes into his final three games of the season with 163 goals against.

Bobby Hull scored his 42nd and 43rd goals of the season and Stan Mikita and Bill Hay also scored for the Black Hawks. The victory gave the Hawks a 9-3-2 edge over the fifth-place Rangers.

Robinson banned from boxing in Montreal

(United Press International)

The Montreal Athletic Commission has banned Sugar Ray Robinson from boxing in the Canadian city for life. The Commission says it will seek to make the banning worldwide.

The Commission's decision resulted from Robinson-former welterweight and middleweight champion-failing to appear in Montreal seven days before his scheduled March 23rd fight with Joey Durelle. Another boxer will be substituted in place of Robinson.

Cannington wins "D" championship

Cannington (PNS) — The Cannington Senior Hockey team journeyed to Sundridge to take part in the two day Little N.H.L. 'D' Series Tournament for the Ontario Championship. The first game played at 4:00 p.m. against Honeywood and Cannington won that game 6-1.

The second game was played at 8 p.m. against Kinross and Cannington won this game rather easily by a score of 4-1. The third game and final one saw Cannington playing against Powassan. Before the game hockey experts felt that Powassan might defeat Cannington. In the first minutes of the game it looked as if this might happen, when their defence man scored on a shot from the blue line. However, Cannington settled down to play some good hockey and defeated Powassan by a score of 3-1 on goals by Allan Marshall, two and Rick MacLeish. By winning the 'D' championship, Cannington was the right to enter the 'C' series which is being held at Bradford.

Twenty-four teams competed in this event which Cannington has hosted for the past two years, for towns under 1500.

Wants sidewalks at Cambray for Children's protection

Penelope Deputeysen Cliff felt she could provide some kind of Hargrave would like to of a walk for the children. Warden Mack Kennedy supported the suggestion, and it will go before the roads board for consideration. He told county council last week, the county road into the village that passes the school was "well travelled" and dangerous to the children using it. "They are forced to walk along the road as there is no separate walk for them, and I think one is badly needed," he said. He suggested that when the county moved back the highway fences 10 feet on each side the requirement now from 66 feet to the required 85 feet.

Feed heavy to get more milk, dairy herdsmen told here

Guest speaker at the annual meeting of Victoria county members of Central Ontario Cattle Breeding Association held at Lindsay, was A. Dinmore, feed specialist with United Co-ops of Ontario. He discussed feeding problems, dealing particularly with the dry cows in the members' herds.

"The dry cow must necessarily be the cow of tomorrow," he said, stressing that today's high producing cow requires an eight-week dry fit period before beginning a new lactation.

Mr. Dinmore discredited the theory that heavy feeding during the dry period would "burn out" a cow stating rather that this practice would return half a ton or more of extra milk in the following lactation.

The meeting received reports from several of the association's staff members, indicating that 1965 had been a very successful year with an increase of more than 1,700 first services over 1962.

General Manager Dr. C. Reeds reported that in 1965 Central Ontario Cattle Breeding Association had developed two Certified Mast Bull Programs. He explained the sire book

COUNCIL RALLY AT 18.32 FEB 1964 LINDSEY HELD, COUNCIL HAPPY

Moore and Finney oppose two-vote committee idea proposed by Mayor Holtom

Reeve R. I. Moore and Deputy-Reeve George Finney of Lindsay were placed in an unusual position at the Friday session of Victoria County Council. A resolution from Town Clerk Bale, passed by the Lindsay Council, requested county council to allow Lindsay members to exercise the privilege of casting four votes instead of two, as at present, when voting as members of any committee. (At the present time the Lindsay representatives are allowed to cast four votes when the entire council is in session.)

Reeve Roy Morrison of Markham contended that the question should be referred back for further consideration. He added: "Perhaps Victoria or some other township should be entitled to two votes, the same as Lindsay, on the basis of population."

Reeve Moore said that he did not favor the resolution and Deputy-Reeve Finney held the same opinion. "I do not want two votes instead of one in committees, or Lindsay has four votes instead of two," he said. "The idea comes from Mayor Holtom who apparently got the idea attending the Mayors and Reeves Association."

Reeve H. Murphy of Belleville thought the idea was all right for committees of the whole but not on smaller committees. He said: "Lindsay might, if this idea passes, have two votes on a four-man committee or even four votes on a small committee if the committee only comprises four members. That would be unfair."

Deputy-Reeve Lowe of Enniskillen favored the resolution added: "Perhaps Markham or some other township should be entitled to two votes, the same as Lindsay, on the basis of population."

Reeve Moore said that he did not favor the resolution and Deputy-Reeve Finney held

Douglas Nuttar speaks at Bethany Wmcc

Bethany PMS — Mr. Douglas Nuttar, Assistant Local Director of the Children's Aid Society in Northumberland and Durham Counties, was guest speaker at the Bethany Women's Institute, which held the home of Mrs. Addison Scott.

Mr. Nuttar dealt with all the functions of Children's Aid Societies which were first established to care for neglected and dependent children. The scope of the work has broadened considerably and today the Society deals with such problems as marital discord, non-support, juvenile delinquency, complaints regarding neglected children, unmarried mothers, foster home care for children and investigation on behalf of Family Allowance and the Official Guardian under the Matrimonial Causes Act.

"There is a staff of 12 full time workers and two part time workers at the Port Hope Office. Mrs. E. Bridges is the Matron in charge of Hillcrest Lodge where neglected or needy children are first taken. They stay there approximately 2 months before going into Foster homes. The Children's Aid Society is your community agent for children deprived of homes. It is YOUR business. Children are our most precious commodity and we have a duty to protect every child. If more attention was paid to the very little children who have need of help and more understanding given to them, we would not have need of so many Training Schools, Homes for Delinquents and Prisons."

Mr. Nuttar cited many pathetic incidents of families under his supervision, discussed adoption of children and closed his informative talk with a plea for more Foster Homes throughout the area. "Every tiny life placed in your care can be your most precious child."

Victoria County Councilors were all smiles Friday afternoon, when County Clerk F. L. Weldon informed them that the mill rate would increase the same as in 1963 — 18.32.

Councillors approved a budget of $41,653,287 for the county, the lowest the mill rate at 18.32 which includes the high school and hospital taxes.

Mr. Weldon said the county was raising $12,000 less than in 1963 and less than last year. There were increases down the line for the majority of the county employees and slight reduction in some of the grants.

One new grant this year was to the Emergency Measures Organization for the hiring of a co-ordinator and, an increase of $4,500 on county bridges expenditures. The Academy Theatre Foundation also received a grant of $2,500 and the grant to the Lindsay Central Exhibition was reduced to $4,000 last year.

Starr urges council ignore press and radio pressure, do what believe is right

Deputy-Reeve J. Starr (Markham) feels that press and radio publicity should be ignored, if it is adverse to councillor's opinions, and told county council members at Friday's session that they should not be swayed by what the public may read or hear.

"I think we should vote as we believe is right and not be swayed by what the public will say," he said.

"The public (but) put us here and if they are not satisfied with our actions it is their privilege to elect someone else."

He was referring to Reeve R.I. Moore's request at the Friday session to re-introduce the motion, (which was debated the day before), for an increase in the county engineer's salary.

The reeve had noted that the radio and press had "put the council in a bad light" by stating that all county employees had received increases except the engineer.

The motion was passed, giving the engineer a salary of $8,000.

DOES SHUR-GAIN FERTILIZER SPREAD BETTER?

As a quick glance shows-GAIN Selected-Granulated Fertilizer may look very much like most other kinds of granular fertilizers—but there is an important difference. Most ordinary fertilizers and practically all common blended ones consist of a dry mixture of fertilizer materials either in powder or granular form. As a result the different ingredients vary in size and weight. You can compare it to a handful of ping-pong balls mixed with a handful of iron shot. You know out of these, the heavier marble will travel farther than the ping-pong balls—and that is exactly what happens with ordinary fertilizers.

Bony growths of GAIN-GAIN Selected-Granulated Fertilizer contains the guaranteed plant food elements in the right proportion.

When you spread your fertilizer, with a drill or even more important, with any broadcast-type spreader you can be sure that every particle (from the smallest to the largest) of free-running GAIN-GAIN Selected-Granulated Fertilizer is uniformly distributed no matter what size of machine you use.

Another good reason you can be confident of top returns from GAIN-GAIN—the finest fertilizer for your good earth!

Deer Winter Well...

PILOT PROJECT PROVIDES DEER BROWSE

...Good Hunting Ahead

The white-tailed deer have fared very well last winter and promises good hunting for the sportsman next year. The Fish and Wildlife Branch of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests have just completed an aerial survey of the deer yards in the District using Beaver aircraft.

A press party accompanied the Lands and Forests officers on an inspection of the deer habitat programme in Anson Township from the ground and from the air. The programme is a co-operative venture between the Fish and Wildlife and the Timber departments of the Lands and Forests.

An inspection of the current deer yard project on Crown land in Anson Township, a few miles from Highway 10, was the first visit made by the party. James Waddell, officer in charge of the project, explained the main requirement of deer was shelter and food in the winter. The area selected for the deer yard had ample balsam, spruce and hemlock trees that provided necessary cover, and between 500 and 250 acres of land was treated to provide more browse for the deer. The area had been previously spotted from the air as a highly concentrated deer area in the winter.

The method of producing additional browse for the deer herds was to ring or girdle second-grade, nonmerchantable trees. This kills the tree but produces succulent second growth at the base of the tree. The second step is to cut down smaller trees, again low grade—all trees, but not to sever the trunks completely. The tree lying along the ground keeps alive and the deer can browse off the fresh twigs. In addition nutritious sucker growth provides additional food. The programme should provide browse for the deer for a 10 to 15 year period.

Full grown deer need 4-5 pounds of browse a day and get most nutrition from the very tips of the twigs. They eat further down the twigs as food becomes scarce.

Winners with heavy snow create most difficult conditions for deer when the snow exceeds 24" in depth the deer tend to confine themselves to the sheltered deer yards areas, then if the snow persists and the food supply becomes slim, the law of the wild ("survival of the fittest") takes effect.

The accumulated snow depths this year are low, due to frequent thaws and deer have ease of travel. Biologist Ken Izawa estimates there are between 20,000 to 30,000 deer in the Lindsay Lands and Forests district. Department of Lands and Forests officials have observed, from the air, the deer herds are not concentrated in small areas of cover as in severe winter conditions and track patterns indicate they are ranging wide for food.

PILOT PROJECT

The deer yard created last year and the one just completed are pilot projects designed to gather information on an operational basis. Results of the project are being watched very closely. Biologist Ken Izawa said the nutrient content of artificially created browse would be analyzed and compared with natural browse. Deer habitat programmes such as these pilot projects have been under consideration for a number of years.

P. P. Pugh Johnston, Lands and Forests Timber Supervisor with the party said the bad winters of '58-'59 and 1960 caused the death of many deer and said "work such as this during those winters would have been a godsend to the deer".

Senior Conservation Officer Wallace Swanson said he had noticed in the last three surveys of deer a shortage of 1% and 2% year olds due to the severe weather conditions. He said the average life of deer (adults) is 2 1/2 to 3 years old, and (fawns) which if included would bring the average down considerably, constitute about one third of the deer population.

An inspection of the deer yard near Paul's Lake in Anson Township, created by the Lands and Forests last year showed the deer had been taking advantage of the browse provided. Large numbers of deer tracks were seen from the ground and from the air's work of deer habitat and the treated area had been improvement. All age classes of deer appear better fed, more active and healthy, conditions are highly satisfied with the that promise "good hunting" results shown after the first next fall.

IS THERE TREATMENT FOR HARDENING OF ARTERIES?
Dear Dr. Steinhorn: Is there any successful treatment for hardening of the arteries?—Mrs. B.

Comment: As successful as it can be under the circumstances, when you consider that we don't know the actual cause of arteriosclerosis.

There are many theories for loss of elasticity in the coats of the arteries which causes them to stiffen and their path-ways to fill up with cholesterol and lime, preventing blood from getting through the arteries unobstructed.

This process is likely to be felt any of the arteries in the body. If the coronary arteries are involved the result is coronary disease, kidney disease, if the arteries in the brain, the result may be stroke.

HERE ARE PREVENTATIVES

Now, in a general way, here are the results of bad habits is the answer to your question have already taken toll. As I regarding treatment. Of use, if you asked me the two course, having good ancestor's simple ways to prevent ar- is important. If there isn't a arteriosclerosis I'd say just keep history of coronary disease, your weight down and try to kidney disease or stroke in the live a relaxed way of life.

family, there is less chance of a SCARY M.D. being a victim of these condi- tions.
Another important factor is obesity. To prevent arterio- sclerosis, keep your weight within normal bounds.

Try to get the normal amount of exercise, but don't go out of your way to overdo. Try not to live in tension. Take frequent vacation if you can.

Don't be overambitious and overwork. Keep emotions under control. Don't smoke! Don't take more than a couple of ounces of liquor a day.

If you have high blood pres- sure, be sure to treat it. If your blood cholesterol is high ask your doctor for a diet low in saturated fats (no butter, cakes, ice cream, toast, cream, fatty meats, etc.).

You can see that the treat- ment of arteriosclerosis be- comes a life-long job, and not when you get into your 50s and 60s.

Comment: I haven't heard of it. When there is one shot will be heard around the world.

Dear Dr. Steinhorn: I am just 80. My hair was white

I have often said here that most doctors try to be tactful. They try not to scare people to death. But occasionally the exception comes along to prove the rule.

Dear Dr. Steinhorn: Al- most two years ago I had a cancerous left breast removed. So far so good.

One day I asked the doctor what the next step would be if the cancer should return. He said that he would remove the adrenal glands. He assured me that the cancer would disappear and not to worry. Since then I have talked to a different physician. He said, "I rather he should cut off your head!"

Comment: Whoa! Whoa!

Dear Dr. Steinhorn: My friend and I have heard of a lot to give up smoking. Will it help cut out the habit?—Mrs. B.

Comment: Interesting. I've never observed this phenom- enon. Perhaps other readers have seen similar changes. (Released by the Bell Syndicate Inc.)

STOP!... killing yourself

By Peter J. Steinhorn, MD, F.A.C.P.

REGARDLESS OF AGE, YOU SHOULD FEEL WELL. Many people think and live by the calendar. Each birthday is another milestone on the road to oblivion.

Now, it's all right to realize that life is circumcribed, but we're here only for 70 to 100 years; but it's something else again to think and act like an older because the calendar says so. So many think that because they are over 40 they're not supposed to feel well. Consider the letter below.

Dear Dr. Steinhorn: My husband is 53 years old and 47. Solomon are we sick but neither of us feels real well. My husband works hard every day. He says we're not supposed to feel good at our age. I don't agree with him. I think everyone should feel comfortable unless there is something really the matter.

Take myself. I don't feel good. Although I get plenty of rest, I get tired and fall into a chair completely exhausted, my whole body quivering, my legs weak and my chest thumping.

I have everything to live for. My husband and I are still in love. The house we built at 18 years old is paid for. We have wonderful neighbours and fine children, who are married. Should I ignore my tiredness and do what my husband says, forget about it? Ought the facts that I am 47 make me surrender to these tired feelings and accept them as part and parcel of my age? Mrs. C.

MAY NEED MEDICINE
Comment: I agree. Don't listen to your husband. There are many causes of fatigue like yours. From tension to something more serious. Therefore, treat yourself to a medical examination.

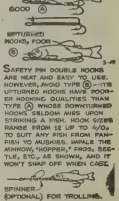

All you may need is a tranquillizer or a little iron. Perhaps something more. We main thing is not to believe that you're old enough to feel well. If you were 90 I'd also tell you not to take it lying down.

Dear Dr. Steinhorn: During the winter months when storm windows and doors are up, how many people say they air the house early in the morning when the air is freshest. I air my house in early afternoon because I am under the impression that sunlight purifies the

STOP!... killing yourself

DOES LACK OF EXERCISE CAUSE CORONARY ATTACK?

I am for many things and against many others. For example, I am for common sense and against the coroners who are to prevent coronary disease. I am against the coroners who are to prevent coronary disease. I am against the coroners who are to prevent coronary disease.

Doctors who believe in exercise will quote statistics to prove their point. I can do as I like to prove mine. But I bicycle, play golf or tennis to keep fit. I think I get all the exercise I need walking my dog about two miles a day. I don't think I ought to exercise every day to prevent a coronary attack. I have a truth in it.

Gilbert Del Toro's doghouse didn't drive him crazy — but it still cost him a bundle. Del Toro decided to teach himself how to drive after he failed a driving test in San Francisco.

The first lesson ended after he had hit eight cars and two buildings.

Frost failed to recognise varsity problems claims U of W Professor

Former Ontario Premier Frost has been accused by a University of Waterloo professor of failing to recognize approaching university problems during his term in office. The charge was made by Dr. R. G. Stanton editor-in-chief of the Ontario Mathematics Gazette in the latest issue of his magazine usually read only by professional mathematicians or teachers.

He stated in his report, that the provincial government was still lagging in support for Ontario universities, as it had in the past.

The complaints were apparently caused by the government's recent decision to pay Ontario universities about $10 million a year, which they claimed was a minimum subsidy this year.

The doctor said that this decision could only be blamed on lack of government information, and he pointed to Mr.

Eastern Lake Ontario, Halliburton Region, Lindsay area; increasing cloudiness today. Overcast this evening with early beginning of the night and continuing on Saturday. Little temperature change. ### ROBERTS TO RE-EXAMINE PROPOSALS

Toronto (UPI) — Ontario Premier John Robarts today held up consideration of controversial legislation aimed at fighting organized crime in the province.

Robarts, in a statement, said the legislation, giving wide, discretionary powers to the Ontario Police Commission — would be examined before coming up for consideration in the legislature. The Premier said he would not allow legislation to pass that infringes on individual liberties.

Almost violent criticism has been aimed at the proposed legislation mainly because it would allow the police commission to summon any person for questioning in secret, and to jail him indefinitely if he refuses to answer questions.

The legislation was introduced yesterday by Attorney-General Fred Cas, who described it as "drastic and dangerous". Cas said — and we quote — "It's new and it's terrible legislation in an English Common law country."

The Attorney General indicated, however, the legislation is necessary if organized crime — revealed as a major threat in a royal commission report tabled a few minutes earlier — are to be successfully exterminated.

The Toronto Globe and Mail — in a front-page editorial this morning — hammered the legislation and said it would make Ontario a police state. The editorial asked: "Are we in Ontario — or are we in China? In the Canada of 1964 or the Germany of 1934?"

Remember way back when

MARCH 20, 1914

Hon. Bro. bylaw was splendidly endorsed at a largely attended public meeting of the citizens in the Council Chamber last night. All classes of the community were represented—the merchant, professional man, the manufacturer, mechanic and laborer. Manifested the deepest interest in the discussion and there was a fixed determination on the part of one and all to do their share in seeing that the proposition was carried. Tuesday, the 23rd, was the day when the matter was to be decided. The evening stars were Venus and Jupiter.

These born today are under the sign of Peace. On this day in history: In 1832, Harriet Beecher Stowe's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was published in book form for the first time.

Cold Weather Delays Tapping

The cold weather has put back the maple season and it is not much hope that a supply of the new products will be on the market for a week at least. Some tapping has been done in the district but the sap has not yet started to run owing to the cold weather.

MARCH 20, 1939

Beginning April 1st a new industry will locate in Lindsay. "The Post" learned today in an interview with E. D. Fee of Fee Motors. The new industry, a mattress manufacturing concern will locate in a building owned by Mr. Fee and located on the new site. The building is the vacant red structure near the Lindsay Auto Supply on Wellington Street. William J. Ellis owner of the proposed business had completed all the arrangements for the beginning of this industry in Lindsay and it is expected that five or six men will be engaged to begin operations.

Luck Smiler on Former Resident

A former Lindsay man is one of the lucky Canadians to draw winning tickets in the Irish Sweepstakes, Herbert R. McGill, Post Colborne trucker and a former resident of Lindsay, drew a ticket on Kirkwall, a non-starter with ticket number 0737419. His non-deposit of "The White Shrike". It is estimated that the ticket is worth $2500.

Reports and Remarks...

NEW PORKHORN LAWN

Professor C. Norcliffe Parkinson is at it again. He has invented—or discovered, or elucidated—a new law. A one-time teacher of history, Prof. Parkinson has gained his own niche in history as a humorist, the one with a sense of humor, or a humorist with a sense of economics.

Parkinson's first law concerned work. During the Second World War, he has explained, he was a British army major making a combined service headquarters in England that was no secret he never did discover what it was. "Paper flowed into my desk," he says, "and we worked on day and night to try to deal with it until the day when the Air Vice-Marshal was called away to what I think one might describe as a convalescent of air vice-marshal. The work to be done dropped abruptly by 25 per cent. Shortly afterwards the Colonel went on leave. The work dropped to 50 per cent. After that the Wing Commander fell sick. It is comical—not the disaster you might suppose, but I noticed, then, that the work had dwindled to a point where I could deal with it in about an hour after breakfast." Out of that experience came Parkinson's Law, oddly enough first published by the London Economist. Work expands to fill the time available for its conclusion.

"That article had a certain amount of success," the Professor added, "which encouraged me to go further into my studies in administration." The result was a law concerning money. In this second dictum the Professor had government in mind, but individual experience confirms it as a universal truth: Expenditure rises to meet income.

Now the New York Times reports, Professor Parkinson has come out with a new law, and embroiled himself in British party politics. The Professor, apparently, has not had time to pare his precept down to a few words but the gist of it is that nationalized industries have a built-in tendency toward bankruptcy because the more an industry is identified with government the less chance it has to economize on wages and salaries.

Teachers salaries raised at Somerville meeting

A meeting of the Trustees of the Somerville T.S. was held in the Kinnmount school. All members were present. The minutes were read and adopted on the motion of Mr. Hopkins, seconded by J. Halliday.

As all necessary approvals have now been received by the Board for the building of the new Burnt River school and the two Councils have approved the approval of the Ontario Municipal Board, the contracts were signed with the Arnold Steele Const. Co. of Peterborough. Construction to begin as soon as weather permits. The teachers of the area were interviewed regarding continuing on for the meeting today.

Attends Service Officers school

Sunderland (PNS) — Conrade John Allan Service Officer of Brock Branch No. 141 Royal Canadian Legion attended the Service Officers School held in the Peterborough Legion with two service officers from Provincial Command Service Bureau acting as instructors.

Twenty-two comrades registered and the meeting got underway at 10:30 a.m. All aspects of the War Veterans Allowance Act were explained and discussed in the morning session.

After lunch served by the Ladies Auxiliary the meeting re-convened and during the afternoon all the available assistance funds and their various applications were the subjects for discussion as assistance legislation is subject to frequent change and amendment. Attendance at these schools is most important for Branch Service Officers in order that they may give the members of their community information which is as nearly correct as possible and that applications for assistance may be properly filled in and put into the bank of the right authority for processing.

unit meeting

Holliburton (PNS) — Unit two of the U.C.W. met at the home of Mrs. Muriel Morison with 17 members present.

Under the leader, Mrs. Eida McKnight, she welcomed the members and a hymn followed by a reading and prayer opened the meeting. Mrs. McKnight then welcomed Mr. Petrie who came in to lead the devotional period. Mr. Petrie explained about a new curriculum on Christian education in the United Church that includes parents as well as children.

The new programme is in three parts and all continued in the study book. "The Word and the Way," one of these portions from the book is what is religion. Mr. Petrie chose the topic for a discussion and it proved very interesting.

The offering was then taken, followed by prayer. The roll call was answered by donations to the overseas bazaar.

Treasurer Mrs. Morison reported unit had a balance of $10.07 collection for membership for January and February. Community friendship committee reported one card and two envelopes.

Mrs. Eileen Robertson suggested they hold a bazaar sale at a money raising project. This was moved by Mrs. Muriel Morison, seconded by Mrs. Vera Moore. For supply Mrs. Lillian Curry reported 3 pairs of pillow cases and numerous other articles to sew and knit as well as Mission fair entries. Penny donations were $1.37.

The meeting was closed by Mrs. Eida McKnight, and a short social period followed.

Another Napanee win could stall Lions week

Lindsay Lions will likely not be played until Monday night as the Pictou Arena is booked by the Army Saturday night. The seventh game if necessary will be back at Napanee Tuesday night. For Napanee to win, an eight game record would be required, which could leave the Lions idle for another week.

Coach Frank Mario's T.T.T. "A's" were scuttled at the Junior Canadiens and dropped the series four games to one at Gary Darling's Junior "A's".

Monsies were battling in over time in Kingston in an attempt to tie the series at two games apiece.

Give practical demonstration of why they're favored

(United Press International) Five red Italian Ferraris yesterday gave a practical demonstration of why they'll be favored in the annual Sebring Sports Car Classic at Sebring, Florida, tomorrow. All five toured the formidable five-mile two mile course at about 100 mile per hour average — the first such 100 mile per hour clocking in the history of the event. The low-noising racing machines made up for gearing down in the sharp curves by screaming down the straight runs at about 170 miles per hour.

The team of Englishman John Surtees and Italian Lorenzo Bandini set the best time of the day during qualifying yesterday — three minutes, four and two tenths seconds for one swing around the course.

The Surtees-Bandini duo snailed down the pole position for the start of the 12-hour grueling race. The main American hope, a Ford-powered Cobra, is likely to be at the tail end when the field runs away Saturday at 10 a.m. (Est)

Fast moving show

a storybook on ice

The Lindsay Figure Skating their story. The Seven Club's Third Annual Ice Revue, now viewed monthly into past, last night at the Kiwanis Arena as each routine was given, many hours of drilling, costume making, and scenery designing.

If the two nights rehearsal are any indication, this year's show is using to be the most colorful yet. The Junior part of the show is very intricate with several scenery changes and many individual and group costume designs. Based on Storybook Land, ten different stories are depicted in authentic costumes and in a moving sequence. To name the many characters not only relives many childhood memories but also indicates the terrific job done by the costume department.

In Alice in Wonderland, there is of course Alice, White Rabbit, Mad Hatter, the King and Queen of Hearts and the Knave of Hearts. The King's Soldiers led by the Sergeant in charge of berserk of the smartest marchers resplendent in their red and white uniforms.

Snow White, Prince Charming, Wicked Witch, and Humpty Dumpty take part in the show.

CLOSE

Grandmother, Woodcutter, and the Wolf accompany Red Riding Hood and it is a very vicious and hungry looking Wolf. Captain Hook, Tinkerbell, John and Wendy accompany Peter Pan, followed by five Pirates and five Indians.

If the two special guest skaters take part in the Cinderella scene, Ian Hillman depicts the Prince, Dennis Hillman is Cinderella, and Hazel Pike joins the Entertainers along with Coachman, Pumpkin, Fairy Godmother, the stepsisters and Step mother. Twelve children are dressed as authentic characters and in a well staged the show are fourteen little brown mice with big pink ears. Six horses also take part.

The second half of the Revue features routines by Cowgirls, Cowboy, Scarecrows, Harry Haywood, Milkmaids, Les Parlemans, and the Spanish Queen of Hearts. Solo and pair numbers along with comedy acts are also well sprinkled through the show. All in all it appears to be a well rounded evenings entertainment and gives the boys and girls in the town an opportunity to display their prowess.

Omecece (PNS) - Trinity United Church Women's on Tuesday March 17th with President Mrs. T. J. Pogue in the chair. Mrs. Ruby Vaughan told of the resurgence of Asian religion due to the encounter with Christianity. She told the Asian is searching for spiritual foundation for his new society and his national goals and doesn't always find the need of dynamic faith in the traditional religions of his fathers... hence the urgency of giving him the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Mrs. Victor Gray spoke from the "Word of the Way" - treating the need for spiritual rebirth in those of us who have grown up with Christianity and tend to take it for granted. Mrs. Kenneth Crawford was in charge of the worship service and Scripture passages were read by Mrs. Sherman Harrison, Mrs. Lloyd Hill and Mrs. Reg Roberts. The beautiful piano variations by Edwin McScott on "Sun of My Soul" were played by Mrs. Irvine Connell. Further plans were made for the Spring Tea to be held on Saturday, April 25th. The meeting closed with the benediction and members of the Section and Mrs. Kenneth Crawford joined the ladies for lunch.

SERVICES FOR TROUBLED FAMILIES PROVIDED BY CHILDREN'S AID

Guest speaker Mr. H. H. Dymond, executive secretary of the Association of Children's Aid Societies of Ontario told a group at the annual meeting of the society Tuesday evening that every community in Ontario is organized to provide services for troubled families through the 55 children's aid societies.

"Great and important things have been accomplished over the years by the society, and as we look over the years, and into its history we can see that the pioneering efforts of its originators have resulted in services which are now available to us today take for granted, he said. "However, we face the danger today of all this effort dying, lagging unless we are prepared to do something about it."

"It is not beyond the realm of possibility that children's aid societies as we know them, could fall by the wayside, or be dissolved, or just simply fold-up and disappear from the scene."

"Holding ground" will not be sufficient he added, "as circumstances demand we take a self-searching look, not only for the immediate future, but for at least ten years ahead."

"Great changes have taken place in the past quarter of a century," said the speaker. "For example, the child population which in 1941 in Ontario was 1,263,400, was practically doubled by 1961 to 2,444,000. The projected figure for 1971 is 3,354,000, which is close to three times the 1941 figure."

"This tremendous figure increase, has increased, and will continue to increase, and can contribute much towards the problem of the number of children in the care of our societies."

BUILD-UP ON THE MOON?

SOME SAY the moon is made of green cheese. Some say it's made of pumice stone. The amateur astronomer shown below thinks it's made of wood... and is being pockmarked by gigantic tentacles. Now seeing the telescopic view shows, but what he sees in reality is the magnification of a commonplace carpenter's ant perched upon the limb of the telescope.

Now we know this is a carpenter's ant. Come lower, folks, with all those lanterns and saws protruding, you'd hardly take it for a June bug. Let's see how quickly you can scan the picture and identify therein at least a dozen objects found in a carpenter's toolbox.

No fair peering at answers below.

THE ANSWER TO THE PUZZLE IS: 1. Saw, 2. Hammer, 3. Nail, 4. Wrench, 5. Screwdriver, 6. Pliers, 7. Saw, 8. Hammer, 9. Nail, 10. Wrench, 11. Screwdriver, 12. Pliers, 13. Saw, 14. Hammer, 15. Nail, 16. # "The Maidens' Viewpoint"

The noise coming from the banquet room in the Kinvale Restaurant, in Kinnow, was enough to curdle the soul. I was just putting into my coffee.

I finished hearing the groan when Leon told the owner of the restaurant came in through the front door.

"That's not in the racket in the next room Leon," I quipped. "You always run a pretty orderly place here —"

"That's the trouble with you fellows from Minden," Leon answered. "You don't appreciate good music when you hear it."

"This —" I questioned. "Is good music?" — sounds more like Herb Hancock and Howard Hanson repeating their jeer —

"Nevertheless," replied Leon, "it's music — matter of fact what you are listening to is a rehearsal of one of the acts of the forthcoming Leon's Variety Show that we are putting on here in the Community Hall April 10th."

"That's enough, Leon," I interrupted — "easy on the free adverts — however, now that you've said that, I'm not much I can do about it."

"Let me fill you coffee again. I just happened to have a lot of the characters with me —"

"When Leon corners you there is not much else you can do but relax — so — I lit a cigar, sat back and picked up my coffee and prepared to listen."

"You've heard of this singing group, the 'Beetles' and before I could reply, Leon said, 'well, that's the group that was rehearsing when you came in — noise indeed, these fellows are good — finished musicians — you'll never hear anything like them around here.'"

"I couldn't agree more," I said under my breath. "Now," continued Leon, here he cast "The Beetles" are being taken by Gerald Austin, Boyd Austin, Bill Scott and H. C. Douglas."

"Speaking of talent," continued Leon, "we have an impersonator of Al Jolson that will really rock your cardroom — Pat Taylor does this for us."

"Dr. Casey is always good material," said Mr. Wright. "We have our own version of Dr. Bill Casey with an outstanding cast — Doc is Bill Scott, Max is Garland Barkwell, Sam is Ralph Byrne, Carmen is Norma Gilmore and Edna is Norma Silvers."

"We have a special guest who is quite a versatile entertainer, Don Jones of the Norwood Lions Club — There will also be entertainment of a wide variety by the local school children."

In conclusion, I said Leon, "Hugh McNaura is manager of the whole deal and of course, with me as the 'M.C.' we have quite an evening's show lined up."

"That was that, Leon was finished, my coffee and coffee were finished, so there didn't seem to be much reason to stay any longer — so I left."

As I got into my car, I thought — "I know all these fellows — I have to see — so, join me Friday night, April 10th at Kinnow and we shall see what we shall see. In any event, I'll let you know what happen after I've been there."

Places as we remember them from years gone by are one thing — places you see when after years of absence are something else again. Such an experience was mine one of the last week end. It was a beautiful spring day — perfect for a drive down through Bobcaygeon — very also as I was growing up. Bobcaygeon had a great many memories for me.

"Turning to my wife, Mary, I said, 'let's drive up to the Dance Hall' — many a night we, and our friends spent there. As we drove towards the Hall my memory took me back to the days when Jack Brown and his orchestra played the night — memories kept crowding in until we made a short turn in to the lot and we were there."

It was a Sad Sight. Nothing is left of the Dance Hall and Staff Cottage — only about 50 single-storied concrete piers rearing bleakly up into empty space — the parking lot overgrown with weeds.

We turned the car and left behind a little bit of our lives — as we drove away — all that is left now is the memory of the place — it is not that much. This, I guess, is what happens when you grow older.

Driving through Fenelon Fall I noticed quite a lot of activity around the former offices of Murchison and Tabb. These offices have been completely remodelled and are to be the future home of 'Leas's Fashions'.

This Friday I'll fill you in on what is happening as soon as I get more information. Time after time as I have watched the 'Leas's Fall' I have watched play after play that showed the usual pioneer family expecting an addition to the family — the kindly old family doctor is busily engaged getting ready and he turns to the expectant father and says, 'son we're again to need lots of hot water — how's boy getting it for us?' So he does.

I asked Dr. Fred Griffith why 'Well, actually it isn't,' replied Dr. Fred, 'the biggest problem you have delivering a baby in a home is the father — he's always underdressed — so you get him doing something useful — he's got to do your under —'

After it's all over, with all that hot water you save. Have the father's for some steaming hot coffee.

So much for this week — see you Friday.

WHEAT PRODUCERS FAVOR LEVY INCREASE

The results of a recent vote put to Ontario wheat producers on a proposed licence fee and levy increase, found a clear majority of ballots in favor of the new proposal.

Members of the Ontario Wheat Producers Association were issued with ballots at their last meeting, February 13, which were forwarded to Toronto.

Mr. Roy Coulter, chairman of the Ontario Wheat Producers Marketing Board, said that the ballots received by the Farm Products Marketing Board show 69.5% of the total votes cast are in favor of the levy increase.

This will help the board to implement a more sound financial system, he said, pointing out that as a result of the Wheat Board's credit crisis last fall, a greater operating capital is imperative to the continued success of the wheat producers organization.

The procedure of casting ballots at county meetings, Mr. Coulter said, was favored in order that producers be afforded the opportunity to openly discuss the issue in each county.

Candace, Director-General of the World Health Association, he states that at least 15 million people suffer from infectious tuberculosis in the world. The disease still claims more than 3 million lives each year and these are cautious estimates.

It is true that there has been a spectacular decline in tuberculosis deaths in nearly all economically-developed countries. Between 1950 and 1960 the tuberculosis death rate fell from about 14 to 10 per 100,000 population in the Ne-

However, he said, this is a proper approval by government under the Federal Agricultural Products Marketing Act.

Children's

old children were lined up in a row.

After a good deal of sorting out, one would be chosen and the look of dismay which came over the faces of the others could never be forgotten.

Later however, he said the system was changed, and foster homes were secured for the children where they were able to lead an ordinary, rather than an institutional life.

Children are not now the object of pity as "Shelter Kids, and this is surely to the good, he said.

He spoke of his many trips even to the far north of the counties taking in little children who had either been deserted by their families, or their fathers were unable to care for them.

He spoke of one occasion where he had to go into the bush country north of Haliburton, and in a shack found a couple, a wife wearing a bran sack tied around her waist and the shack devoid of any furniture.

In the corner was a pile of hay, the children's bed, and the family had been living on bread, potatoes and whatever fish they could catch.

The couple knew very little about the children, and seemed to care less, and were quite willing for him to take the children away.

He told of being threatened with a beating on the head with a fry pan, of being threatened with a shot gun, and lost in the woods.

He paid tribute to many fine local residents who, had given freely of their time during his career, which included Dr. Fred Logan, Dr. Hugh Logan, "Pop" Zilly, John O'Leary, W. G. Prouse, and many many others.

Starting in one room over Gregory's Drug store the society finally graduated to their present quarters at 10 St. Paul St.

Monday evening under the auspices of the Fennell Falls Salvation Army Songsters Brigade was enjoyed by 30 or more Lindsayites. The very fine presentation was by the Danforth (Toronto) Glades Songsters numbering about 60.

USES LIVE TELEVISION BROADCAST

Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda used the first live television broadcast between Japan and the United States today to apologize directly to the American people for the stabbing of U-S Ambassador Edwin Reischauer. Ikeda, using the facilities provided by the Bushi Two U-S communications satellite, said he spoke on behalf of the Japanese people in regret over the stabbing yesterday of the 68-year old Reischauer by a mentally-damaged, 18-year-old youth. The Prime Minister expressed regret for the incident concerning Reischauer, who is reported recovering satisfactorily and in good condition in Tokyo's Tiger Gate Hospital near the U.S. Embassy.

"DEEPLY IMPRESSED"

He told the French Cabinet he had brought back "a deep impression of the reception given by the Mexican authorities and the entire Mexican people." De Gaulle's comments were made public after a cabinet meeting by information Minister Alain Peyrefitte.

PLEDGES CO-OPERATION

President Lyndon Johnson has pledged U-S co-operation in efforts to bring what he calls "economic well being to all people in a world of peace and freedom." Johnson's message was presented to the 125th Annual Conference on Trade and Development in Geneva April by U-S Under Secretary of State George Ball. A U-N report before the conference has called for tariff concessions and other steps in preference to help developing nations increase their exports.

BY END OF WEEK

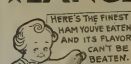

The commander of the U-S Peace Forces for Cyprus said the troops will begin patrolling the island by the end of this week. India's Lieutenant General Gyan made the remark on Pinalis Diplomat Sakri, the appointed mediator of the island dispute, who plans to go to Cyprus next week.

SURVIVES MOTION

Finance Minister Walter Gordon's second budget survived the main opposition no-confidence motion last night. A budget was passed by 10-0. The motion was made until after the Easter recess of the commons, which starts Thursday night. The motion arose after Conservative criticism that the budget did not cut spending during a time of rising taxation.

Slides of trip shown at Box Social

Seagrave (PNS) — The north group of the UCV sponsored a box social in the Sunday School Room, with Mr. Lawrence Nicholls, as Master of Ceremonies. After a few opening remarks he called on 391 via Wanamaker for a piano solo, followed by a vocal solo by Gordon Short.

Mr. Owen Sweetman, was attended the International T.T. conference, at Rome, last fall was present to show some beautiful colored slides he had taken on the trip. All went with Owen, in imagination, on a 150 passenger chartered T.C.A. jet from Malta, and caught a glimpse of Sicily Island, as the plane flew east, high in the air. At times they looked down through the fluffy white clouds, and saw what looked like little specks of white biting, but were really white caps on the waters 1000 ft. below. They saw some of the historic buildings of Rome, as well as beautiful cathedrals, and the more modern building where the conference was held. The Sweetman party visited a son and daughter who with their families are now the R.C.A.P. occupation forces in Germany, so those present saw something of the scenery of that country.

Lawrence made a break here and Catherine Nicholls played a piano solo. Mr. Glenn Wana made gave two short solos. Bonnie Short a vocal solo. Shirley Short a piano solo. Joanne Jackson, of Port Perry, was in the audience and favoured with a very lovely piano solo. Mr. Sweetman then took them from Germany to England where they and their relatives and showed pictures of their farm and flowers which were very lovely.

Lawrence thanked Mr. Sweetman and called on Mr. O. J. Roe to auction the boxes. This was a very successful evening social and financially.

Partner remanded for examination

Two-year suspended sentence for youth in breaking and entering charge

A Lindsay youth, 16-year-old Norman Kennedy told a court today how he and a friend Donald Hutchinson had planned the breaking and entering of the office of Dr. D. L. Curtis on Kent St. and how they had borrowed gloves, a hammer, knife and jimmying tool from his girl friend's apartment next to the office to commit the offence.

He was placed on a two year suspended sentence, and Hutchinson was remanded for one week for a mental examination.

Testimony revealed that the two youths had gone to the apartment of Mrs. Anna Swain, 44 Kent St. on the night of the occurrence, and had phoned the dentist's office, making a fake statement to check if the dentist was in.

Kennedy then said Hutchinson had suggested breaking in to the office as he knew where there was some money.

They had broken the glass on the door, removed $15 from a safe, and some change from a desk, and then gone to a restaurant to eat. They returned later to try and open an inner door of the safe without success.

The $15 was from the Kennedy split between them, Kennedy said.

Defence counsel W. Lacey made a passionate plea on behalf of Kennedy stating that he felt his client "not retarded, but not particularly bright. He said his client's father was an old man in his 90's and being in a home was unable to care for the youth.

Crown Attorney Jordan read off a past record of Hutchinson's ranging from breaking and entry to consuming liquor and wild damage.

The probation officer told the court Henderson had been in an accident in 1960 and had received head injuries.

The magistrate remanded the youth for a mental examination.

Const. W. March and Cpl. W. R. Mosley were the investigating officers.

EDITORIALS....

LIBERTIES JEOPARDIZED

Integrity means sincerity, honesty and justice, and integrity governs the conduct of people in their private and in their business lives.

In Canada most business is conducted with integrity, for in the long run a business cannot survive if it is not run in an upright manner.

A government must govern with sincerity, honesty and justice. Fair dealing for everyone is essential, and the rights of the citizens are paramount.

The public outcry over the "graphic, slanderous and terrible" legislation presented by Attorney General Canada asked Premier Robarts to say "I will permit no legislation to pass through the House which infringes on the basic rights and liberties of any individual."

The people who elect the government to govern them with fairness, have a right to control, they have a right to be informed of their rights to bail, and must be given a fair trial according to the rules of evidence. They must not be forced to incriminate themselves by their own evidence.

The very fact that a government member would even suggest a "talk or be jailed" law shows the chaotic way in which the people of this province are being governed.

But while the people of the province react with shock and dismay over such a piece of legislation, they permit their individual liberties to be undermined and jeopardized in smaller, but no less invidious ways.

We are referring now to the Social Insurance Number to be given each Canadian beginning April 1st. This nine digit number will regiment the individual further until he becomes more of a cipher. The Minister of Labour, Hon. Allan J. MacEachern claims the move is being carried out as a means of better government record keeping. At a recent meeting of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, Labour Minister MacEachern attempted to dispel fears that Canadians are losing their identity and denied the Social Insurance Number project is synonymous with "regimentation." "These observations are not founded on fact," the Minister said. "Identity will not be lost and regimentation will not be the end result."

Regimentation may not be the end result intentionally. At the present time the card is to be issued in three parts. One goes to the employer, and the remaining two portions go to the numbered person. The government suggests the first section be kept in the wallet or purse and the second section preserved in a safe place. How long before it will become compulsory to carry such a card on you at all times?

Here, as in the proposed Police Act changes in Ontario, we have the needs of a police state.

KEEP CANADIANS ALIVE

According to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, the number of accidental drownings in Canada in 1964 was 1,126. This represents a drowning rate of about 7.3 persons per 100,000 of population. Now, 10 years later, our population has increased by about one-third. In spite of the fact that more people are enjoying water recreation, Canada's drowning rate has not increased in direct proportion to the rise in population. It may even be safe to say that it has decreased, for it is estimated that the 1964 rate was as low as 6.3 persons per 100,000 of population.

This is no accident! More people are becoming aware of the hazards of water recreation and are acting in a safer and more intelligent manner these days. This is due, in most part, to the efforts of the Ontario police recommendations are rampant and so is the proposed system of social insurance numbering, whatever the excuses given by the Minister of Labour. This was one of the suggestions of the Giacomini Commission Report. Far more sensible things were contained in the reports than this, which the government have so far, failed to do anything about. Government waste for instance.

A "HOLD-THE-LINE" BUDGET

The consensus of opinion seems to be that the federal budget, brought down last night by Finance Minister Walter Gordon, is a "hold-the-line budget," ... a "wait-and-see" budget.

Here in the way United Press International's interpretive financial writers view the budget:

It was a good budget for students—and their parents. But otherwise it was a hold-the-line budget.

There were no personal or corporation tax cuts for Canada's eight million taxpayers nor for the thousands of corporations paying federal taxes.

The building materials sales tax, to jump shortly to eight per cent from the present four, will remain—despite the protest of the construction industry and opposition parties.

Cigarettes cost no less—or more—today, nor do milk, butter, eggs or bacon.

Parents with children aged 16 to 17 remaining in school will get a 10-dollars a month family allowance.

Part-time students at universities or training schools will be able to deduct their tuition fees from income taxes.

Rather than reducing taxes for the man-in-the-street, Finance Minister Walter Gordon preferred to slash the federal deficit by about one-third to 440-million dollars.

The target of the economist-accountant has always been to balance the books of Canada's government.

Most interesting aspect of the budget was its early presentation.

Reports and Remarks...

Water Safety Service of the Canadian Red Cross Society over the past 19 years.

Through this service, hundreds of thousands of Canadians have learned that good habits of water recreation, and therefore, have been able to enjoy the water safely.

Nearly 500,000 persons register for Canadian Red Cross Water Safety courses each year. Yet, there will be about 1,250 accidental drownings in Canada in 1964.

Not all water accidents can be prevented. Most of them can be avoided. The effects of accidents can be minimized. This is possible through the water safety education provided by the Canadian Red Cross. There is still much to be done in this field in Canada today. The Red Cross needs your help to do it. Your financial support now can ensure that water safety education in Canada will continue and help keep Canadians alive. Give generously when the Red Cross canvasser calls on you.

—The Canadian Red Cross Society.

Traffic brought tragedy to a record number of people in 1963. There were 1,431 deaths, 47,401 injuries. Apart from some presumed suicides, and possibly a few murders, in each case the tragedy arose from one or more vehicles going "out of control".

In some instances the loss of control leading to a crash is unavoidable, rising from a genuine, unpredictable "accident". But far too often, says the Ontario Safety League, control of a car is lost because it is being driven in a way that invites, or dare I say, causes, a crash.

In an editorial the Galt Evening Reporter asks "Is it car or driver who is 'out of control'?" In news reports of smash-ups, icy roads, poor visibility and bizarre conditions are often "blamed". The plain fact is that ice, snow and low visibility have about as much to do with these accidents, as do the trees, telephone poles and ditches into which automobiles are buried.

Most of the accidents blamed on "loss of control" are not only avoidable; they have nothing to do with "control" at all. Here are just a few scores of instances.

A driver who finds he cannot stop at a corner because of snow on the road "lost control" because he knowingly drove at a higher speed than driving conditions and his time warranted.

A car whose driver fails to make a curve on a highway was not "out of control". It was being driven too fast.

A driver who plows into a stalled car at night has not "lost control". He was driving beyond the safe-stopping distance of his headlights.

An automobile smashing into the rear of a car stopping ahead of him is not "out of control". The tail-gating driver was riding too close to the car ahead, or was

CALLS FAMOUS 'CYCLOPAEDIA' "AN ENORMOUS JUMBLE"

"It refuses to acknowledge the existence of Elvis Presley, which may be pardonable, and of Bing Crosby, which is forgivable."

We noted in a Toronto paper this weekend a review of a book by Dr. Harvey Ellulander of New York who is picking the bubble of the Encyclopaedia Britannica. He refers to the books as an "enormous jumble of facts, a collection of new and old articles, a mixture of legends and sciences, outmoded views and modern ideas".

The hard-hitting columnist, Canadian of the London Daily Mirror speaks of the encyclopaedia in a January column. He says most of the English have forgiven the Yanks for throwing a lot of good tea into the Boston Harbor and throwing a lot of good redouts out of the United States "But I don't think we have ever forgiven the Yanks for pinching our Encyclopaedia Britannica. They stole it from us sixty-three years ago."

Canadian claims if they had changed the name to Encyclopaedia Americana that would have been fine, for "the ownership of these dubious works lies in Chicago of all the seats of learning" with the University of Toronto exercising a dominant influence over the British scene, thousands of miles away.

"This might still have been fairly all right—were it not for the fact the once-famous Encyclopaedia Britannica founded in Edinburgh in 1768 is now permeated with Americanisms, riddled with omissions, and is a victim of the latest and most pernicious form of high-pressure salesmanship."

Cassandra claims the encyclopaedia "refuses to acknowledge the existence of Elvis Presley, which may be pardonable, and of Bing Crosby, which is forgivable. Up to date as ever, it acknowledges that Johnny-come-lately, Rudolph Valentino, who died in 1926. But I thought the scholarly compilers of Chicago would not be proud of the town that blacked one of our most famous possessions. So I looked up Volume 4 of the encyclopaedia which runs from "Brain to Casting". Surely one of the most walk-on characters that for years was almost synonymous with the name Chicago would find a place in the archives—once Alphonse Capone who WAS Mr. Chicago, a trace... all would have taken these riddled compilers for a final ride and put them out of their scholarly confusion."

not watching for brake signals.

When you read about an accident being caused by ice, snow, blizzards or curves throwing the car "out of control," the cause nine times out of 10 was sitting behind the wheel flouting the laws of safety and common sense—Ontario Safety League.

Design and Comfort Captures Overseas Market

Canadian Homes Built For Export

Rolling along the highways between factory and dock-side, giant trailer-trucks are carrying one of Canada's newest exports—luxurious modern homes. Pre-built in sections and accompanied by furnaces, dishwashers, fridges and hardware, they are bringing the built-in comfort of homes designed for Canada's continental extremes of winter and summer to many families in Europe. With quality, design and speed of erection a major consideration, Canadian homes (in export) are well known competitive with European makes. In the Mediterranean, across central Canada and the Prairies to British Columbia, nearly a dozen factories are assembling homes for overseas.

They utilize the best of the nation's house-building materials ranging from aluminum siding to solid wood coast cedar logs. Since the first factory-built house was exported two years ago, the overseas sale of Canadian homes has developed into a multi-million-dollar business, in export to more rapidly than any other home industry in Canada. It is expected that next year as more and more overseas families buy Canadian-made comfort in living

Canadian homes, like these above, are now available in dozens of different designs and a variety of construction to overseas homeowners.

Canadian-built homes for overseas are loaded on trucks. Export homes meet same rigid government standards as houses built for domestic use.

NATIONAL FILM BOARD PHOTOGRAPHY

Plentiful materials, power tools and skilled workmen like carpenter above, give homes top quality.

Homes for export include kitchen cabinets, being made above, solid oak stairs, bearing frames, dishwashers and other items.

Stamped metal plates for joining wood members of pre-built house sections is one of many new techniques used by Canadian exporters.

Council Quicks

Council authorized the police commission to call for tenders for a new police cruiser, the existing one is in need of extensive repair. "The sooner we get a new one, the better," observed the mayor.

Council agreed to a $300 across the board figure for the town police force, a figure the police association has indicated it would accept. This is $50 more than council were at first prepared to pay.

Lighting chairman Council Neil reported 93 lights had been either installed or re-located in Lindsay during the past year, all as part of the three-phase programme commenced in 1961.

The Recreation Committee were granted a budget of $2000 for 1964. $1000 less than had been hoped for. The 1963 figure was 19,000.

97-piece Lakewood Ohio band delight Lindsay audience

Director Richard Strang drew music band his 97-piece concert band last night like water from a well, which was evident from the first strains of the Meistersinger Overture with its well integrated woodwind section.

One word describing this high school band from Lakewood, Ohio, "Amazing". The band, of young boys and girls, received ovation after ovation for their splendid rendition which ranged from light opera and marches to Hoofbeats.

The first honors went to Bandmaster F. Banks who led the band in O Canada, The Maple Leaf and The Star Spangled Banner. In the lovely "Clarinet Polka" the clarinets were true and clear as the stick seemed to sway and played with the players, and seemed to literally "pull the music from the air". Other numbers included a beautiful rendition of "Meditation" from Thais, "Barnished Brass" which was a beautiful section complete freedom, "Ballet de Plaisance", and "The Swan Lake". The band led with equal ease by

Another Lindsay landmark Goes

This group of talented players, "Buglers Holiday" a trio number with Dale McCullough, Richard Sincere who earlier played "Soliloque For Trumpet" and David Strang.

The tone of these three musicians was amazing, and when the band has the writer heard "Bugler's Holiday" played well.

A delightful dance routine by the schools Junior and Senior girls, received ovation after considerable applause from the audience.

The band projected confidence in their leader throughout the entire program, and it was an evening of delight for those who attended. During the program greetings were exchanged "across the border" by Mayor J. C. Holton and by representatives of Lindsay's Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs. A banner was presented by one of the Lindsay Kiwanis Band players to Mr. Strang, as a good-bye gift.

When Bliss Carman wrote that "Rhythm and harmony are the soul of music" and "It is" he might well have had in mind the Lakewood Ohio Band, a group of very special kind of Goodwill Ambassadors.

Another Lindsay landmark will disappear shortly as workers start to demolish the CPR station on Caroline Street. Its pointed roof has been a Lindsay feature since the early part of the century.

Confirm Sale Of Claxton's Department Store Property

Fire Budget Cut by Council — "Don't get mad if things not done" comments Dr. Gill

"No new hose has been bought by the fire department for the past four years and no hose taken out of service in the past four years", Council Dr. Gill claimed as he defended the fire department budget against cuts during the Council budget meeting Monday. Dr. Gill said the fire chief had asked for new hose for the past few years and the purchase had been put off.

Former owner of the Claxton's store building Ron Claxton declined to comment when questioned this morning. Mr. Albert was not available for comment as to his future plans for the building.

Oakwood

Mrs. Marvin Rogers was a visitor at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. and Mrs. Junkin, Peterboro recently.

Mrs. and Mrs. Howard Friess visited friends in Toronto.

Mrs. and Mrs. Howard Friess were in Oakville and visited her brother, Mr. Lorne Ferguson in hospital, who is awaiting surgery.

Lindsay taxpayers will face nearly 4-mills tax increase this year, the council decided following a lengthy session Monday evening. The increase decided by council was 3.97 across the board but this figure will depend on the final demands of the public school and high school boards.

"It is an economy budget," said the mayor, as the council members passed down the expenditures where ever possible. "Our only hope for a lower increase is for the public school board to revise their request downwards and for the high school to ask for less than we expect they will."

One mill is $14,242. The 1964 budget totals $292,076, about $4,000 less than the $296,046 spent last year. The public school demand is up from $237,920.38 to $239,873.39 (an increase from 4678- to the total tax to 4735- in 1964). School board secretary Ernest Crowl told Council much of the increase was due to higher salaries for teachers. He said the board had an increase of about 100 pupils, or three classrooms to allow for.

Council reduced the Historical Society grant by $100 the Lindsay Central Exhibition by $100 and approved from Council the Chamber of Commerce grant by $250. Here they ran the Lindsay Historical Society for $100. "I think the proposed cut is too much — it's realistic," he said. "Let's not get mad if things not done" comments Dr. Gill.

"We've got to give a certain level of service where we can't just not go," Mayor Joseph Holton told the meeting, "even if it means an increase — we must compromise."

"How can you keep the services the same and the mill rate down when education budgets are up," questioned Rev. I. Moore.

"The increase is almost all salaries — if so we must be offering less service," observed Mayor Holton.

"The education costs are increasing in relation to the over-all," said Councilman K. Taylor.

"That's what I don't like," said the Mayor. "We must be making a sacrifice in something in the budget are nice to have but we can't afford them — we must cut our budgets where we can."

HOW ONE YOUTH WAS MADE DELINQUENT

There is so much talk these days of delinquents: both juvenile and adult. The real cause is not always evident. In our delinquent. When he had seen many parents driven to nervous distraction. They would ask, "Where have you failed?" Sometimes the answer would be evident; at other times, not apparent on the surface. Here is a letter received to day which puts the finger on one cause of delinquency in a neighborhood.

Dear Dr. Steinhorn: The boy had one son and wanted a son and child. When it came to either boy, the mother showed no interest in it. She did. He did neither for months, not help choose a name. She then joined the Navy. On the never fondled it. As the boy's half years he called to say and grew older she compared him would be home in a few hours. He was always didn't want to see him. She wrong in their little battles. Dr. Steinhorn, she is severely and the older got a better way agree for the way with it. The youngster she treats her boy. She calls who was strong by nature was him a child, a liar, immoral in open rebellion by the time and physically brutal. I have he was five. The more she never heard a mother talk so to her child. The boy is a mess—confused, unhappy and brilliant—but not really evil. We pray that a little love and praise will do wonders for him. Can anything be done at this late date?—Mrs. X.

MUST NOT BE ABANDONED?
Comment: The aim of the father? How about the aim of the mother? Is the boy just help? Who knows? But like any wreck or sinking ship, he must not be abandoned until he is a lost.

He may need psychiatric treatment or just simple, kind understanding from the family doctor. It's anybody's guess, after that kind of childhood, what his chances are for getting some happiness out of life.

Did I hear someone say, "Who is to say she is a sinner?" More likely she is sick, and needs treatment, too. In either case, there always remain years and the aftermath like the charred and smelly furniture saved during a fire. Why today? Because I have seen similar examples of cruel

DOCTORS DISCUSS CORONARY TREATMENT

(Scene: Doctor's room in any hospital; cocktail party, medical meeting.)

Dr. A: I think you've gone overboard. You can't cut coronary so much in treating a patient who has just had a coronary attack.

Dr. B: That's a matter of opinion. It happens I don't agree with your tendency in letting the patient lie in bed for three or more weeks after his attack. My motto is get the patient up as soon as possible and he won't get weak by lying there like a vegetable.

Dr. A: Now let's stop making speeches and get down to business. You will agree that any heated portion of heart muscle after coronary thrombosis takes a long time to heal. Physicians tell us that it takes at least three weeks for a healing scar to form. And quite a few weeks after that for a scar to toughen enough so the patient have to be in bed all that time.

TREATMENTS CHANGE

Dr. A: I hate to call on my grey hairs in evidence of wisdom (I've seen some stupid older people) but in my line, while we were still in medical school we used to keep coronary thrombosis patients in bed two or three months. For the first 10 days we wouldn't let them move a finger. I admit that was carrying it too far. Many got weak lying and some got complication like thrombosis in the leg veins and embolism to the lungs.

Dr. B: There's a happy medium. I still think getting the coronary patient up in a chair a few days after his severe attack is not conservative enough for me. You can't tell me it's just as easy on the sick heart just gradually after two weeks, until he can walk in his room after three weeks have passed. I think that's fair and sensible practice of medicine?

Dr. B: Of course, I go on the assumption that every case of coronary thrombosis is just what's your feeling about the daily series, so I will settle upon for three weeks in bed to give up? Dr. A: Hold it! Hold it! The heart has a chance to begin to heal. I think we're not too far. That's another long story. I don't. I don't think I'd like to be shuffled around the bed-room these first few weeks if I had an attack.

EACH CASE DIFFERENT

Dr. A: Good boy. Now we're at least looking at this problem without preconceived ideas. I agree that the coronary patient shouldn't be kept in bed too long and you agree that he shouldn't be allowed to sit up too soon. Let's reach a compromise in the average case.

We agree, I'm sure, that each patient is a problem to himself.

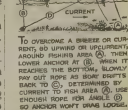

Dr. B: Let's put it this way. In the ordinary coronary patient, who hasn't come in shock, I suppose, if he has no complications and everything is smooth, that we let him up at up to two weeks. Let's reach a compromise in the average case. We agree, I'm sure, that each patient is a problem to himself. Dr. B: Let's put it this way. ## HODGKIN'S DISEASE CAN BE ARRESTED

Dear Dr. Steinhorn: What is Hodgkin's disease? What are its symptoms? What is the patient's span of life? Is there a cure? If not can it be controlled?—Mrs. T.

Comment: Hodgkin's disease is one of the malignant lymphomas (tumors) in which the outstanding symptoms are enlargement of glands. Whether it is actually outstanding due to an unrecognized virus or to a cancerlike growth is not determined.

In so-called simple Hodgkin's, the enlargement of the glands is confined to the neck. Such patients may live for many years. The diagnosis of Hodgkin's in questionable cases is made by removing part of a gland and examining for the presence of Sternberg-Reed cells, which establishes the diagnosis.

In one study of Stage Hodgkin's, in which the gland enlargement is confined to the neck, 77 per cent of the patients had a 10-year cure rate.

The earlier diagnosis is made by the better outlook because treatment by surgery, X-ray, nitrogen mustard and various other medications increases the survival rate.

When the so-called simple Hodgkin's spreads by involving the lungs, liver and spleen, the outlook for survival becomes considerably less. In advanced cases there is fever, loss of weight, marked increase in rate of glandular enlargement. When such symptoms occur in spite of treatment, survival is usually limited to only a few years.

CHANGES IN REGULARITY

Dear Dr. Steinhorn: I read in news warnings that we should beware of "any change in bowel habits." What kind of change would it be?—Mrs. S.

Comment: Let's suppose a person has been having one bowel movement daily for many years. For no apparent reason it now has bowel movement only once a week. He requires laxatives and enemas daily to produce elimination. That is one form of change in bowel

Suppose, having been regular most of his life, he notices what we call alternating periods of constipation and diarrhea. Without being able to attribute it to any change in food, he will notice that he has loose bowels for a week or so, then becomes constipated for days or weeks. Then comes diarrhea again. This is another form of change in bowel habits.

In other words, don't be so sure that your bowels have suddenly become "lazy" when constipated, or charge it up to "something I've ate" if you have diarrhea quite often, especially if you are in the age range past 40. Better have X rays and a sigmoidoscopic examination (lighted tube into the rectum) to make certain that the change in habits doesn't signify serious trouble.

CATS CARRY DISEASE?

Dear Dr. Steinhorn: I have three small children who recently acquired a cat as a pet. They fondle and kiss the cat. Is it worth the happy family that makes for a happy family (Releases by Bell Syndicate Inc.)

And if we had room here we could go on and on and list all the engines Chevrolet offers, starting at the Chevy II's 90-horsepower 160 cc (4-cylinder) (it's the thriftest!) and ranging all the way up to the big Chevrolet's extra-cost 425-horsepower 409 V-8 (it's the greatest!). We could go on about the choice of transmissions, and how they team up with those Chevy power plants to produce some of the going-fastest cars ever.
